The 1953 Olive Branch

This is the story of New Carlisle, Indiana, her industries, her people, and her school. But even more than this, it is the story of New Carlisle High School, her faculty, her students, her curriculum, and her social activities.

This is New Carlisle School

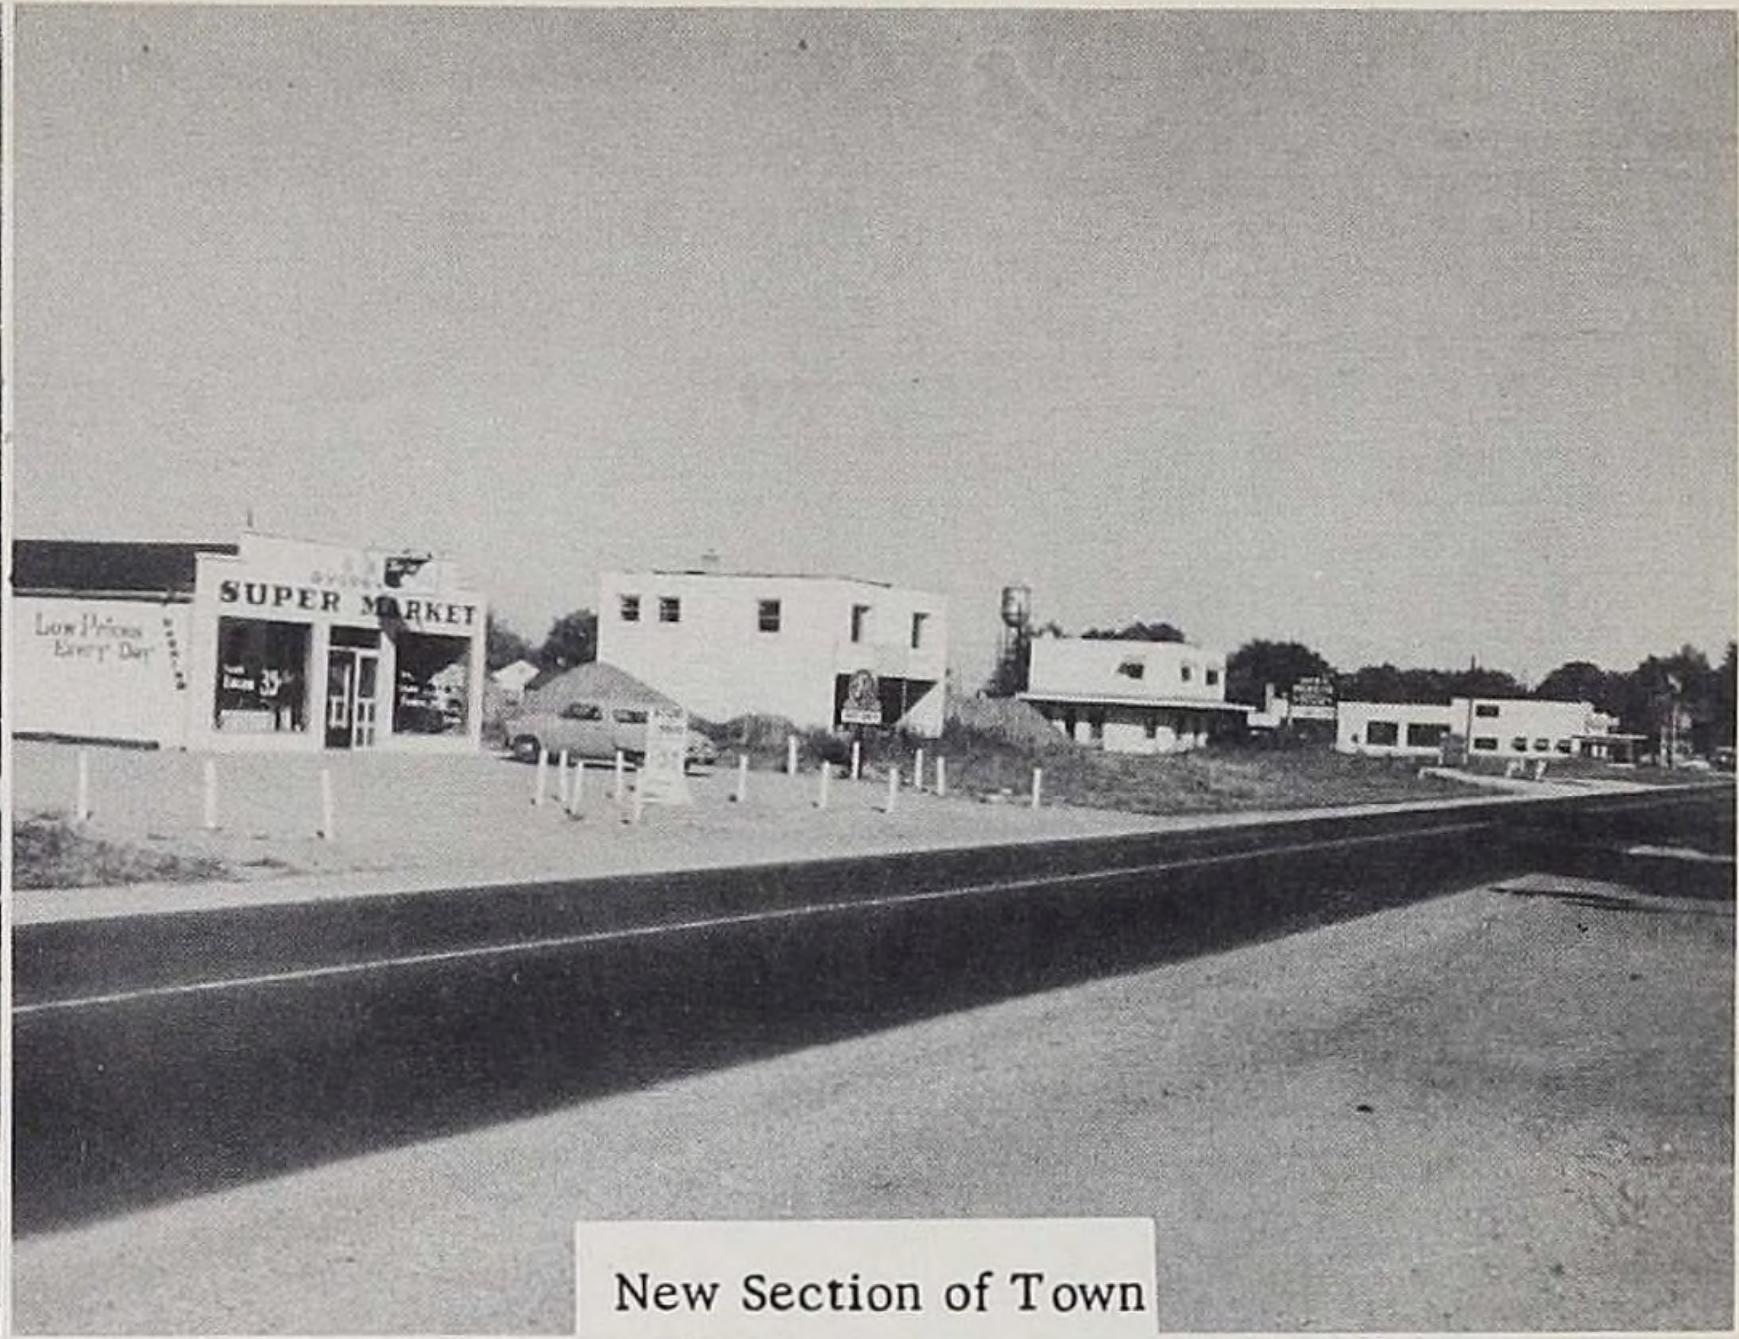

Our town was platted on August 15, 1835, by Richard R. Carlisle and so became New Carlisle, Indiana. Although it was not the first village in our township, it has been the only one to survive. With the coming of the railroad in mid-century, the fate of the village on the "hill" was secure. Since that time, it has steadily grown and prospered.

Aerial view by Harvey Gordon shows that New Carlisle stretches one and one-half mile east and west, three quarters miles north and south.

HER INDUSTRIES

MAKE SUCH THINGS AS FLOUR, FEED, TOOL AND DIES.

For nineteen years the Zahl family has been serving the farmers and handling the fruits of our fertile "Terre Coupee." Their towering elevator, overlooking the prairie, is a familiar sight.

The Mid-City Tool and Die Corporation has been realizing the ultimate in precision tooling since its establishment in 1947 by the Floyd Seyfrieds.

Although several so-called "parlor schools" had existed from 1831, it was not until 1859 that the first school was organized. This was the Methodist Collegiate Institute, which met in the Methodist Church until the new building was ready for occupancy on the present site in 1861. The Institute was soon converted into a public high school. In 1911 an addition was built. In 1922 the walls of the old brick building, jarred by the vibration of the old school bell and the heavy traffic on Lincolnway, were found to be unsafe and so the old college building was torn down and replaced by the modern brick building. The present gymnasium was built in 1935. Again to help take care of our ever-increasing enrollment it was necessary to remodel in the summer of 1949.

Olive No. 9 was abandoned in 1952.

Eighty-four students from Lydick and ninety-four from Hudson Lake attend our school.

HER ADMINISTRATION

The man responsible for the organization of our school, direction of teachers, and counselling of students is Principal W. R. Carr. N. C. H. S. reflects the high standards that Mr. Carr holds for his school. When problems have caused us to seek his counsel, we have found in Mr. Carr a friend and philosopher who always offers the best of advice and guidance.

WEBSTER R. CARR

THE ADVISORY BOARD consists of Mr. Louis Nitsos, Mr. Charles Wykoff, Mr. Stanley Gondek and Mr. Leroy McAllister, Trustee. The board plans improvements, equipment, and budgets, giving generously of their time and thought for the well-being of New Carlisle students.

SHEEPSKINS GIVEN TO SENIORS

The time has come!!! For the proud Seniors the last year was a mixture of happiness and sadness.

As the school year came to an end, the class of '53 suddenly realized that they would be out on their own sooner than they had expected. Some would continue schooling; others would work and later on get married.

The last days of their stay at N. C. H. S. were busy ones. After the Prom came the Baccalaureate, the Class Night, and then the Commencement. As they marched into the auditorium, many different thoughts went through their minds. The graduation that had always seemed so important was now here. Some could hardly wait to get their diplomas; while others wished they were freshmen again. With the closing strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" their high school days came to an end.

CLASSES ELECT OFFICERS

The sophomores completed two years of high school life and seemed none the worse for wear. Their officers included Dan Milliken, president; Martha Sebasty, vice-president; Pat O'Shea, secretary; Leon Adnson, treasure; Karel Cooper and Fred Snous, student council. To prepare themselves for bigger and better things to come in the Junior and Senior years, the sophomore class sold magazine subscriptions to the tune of $1500 to earn money for their class activities.

The junior class was an industrious group. They started the year with class meeting to discuss the questions of rings, the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, the Prom, etc. They found they needed capable leaders to carry out class activities such as the play and the prom. So to lead the class they chose Dick Lewis, president; Dorothy Hostetler, vice-president; Janet DeBaets, secretary; Don Tolmen, treasure; Diane McPherson and Dean Tarr, student council.

Down on the bottom rung of the high school ladder is the "not so green" frosh class. To lead them safely through their high school careers, this class placed their confidence in these officers; Charles Moffit, president; Gene Laughman, vice-president; Jim Dudeck, secretary & treasure; Evelyn Golden and Don Tobolski, student council.

WHAT'S COOKIN'?

Appetites are their business, and the students at N.C. appreciate the expertness this kitchen staff uses each day to prepare the cafeteria lunches which sell for 25 cents. Shown here are Mrs. Berneice Klopfenstein, Mrs. Rodgers, and Mrs. Shankland.

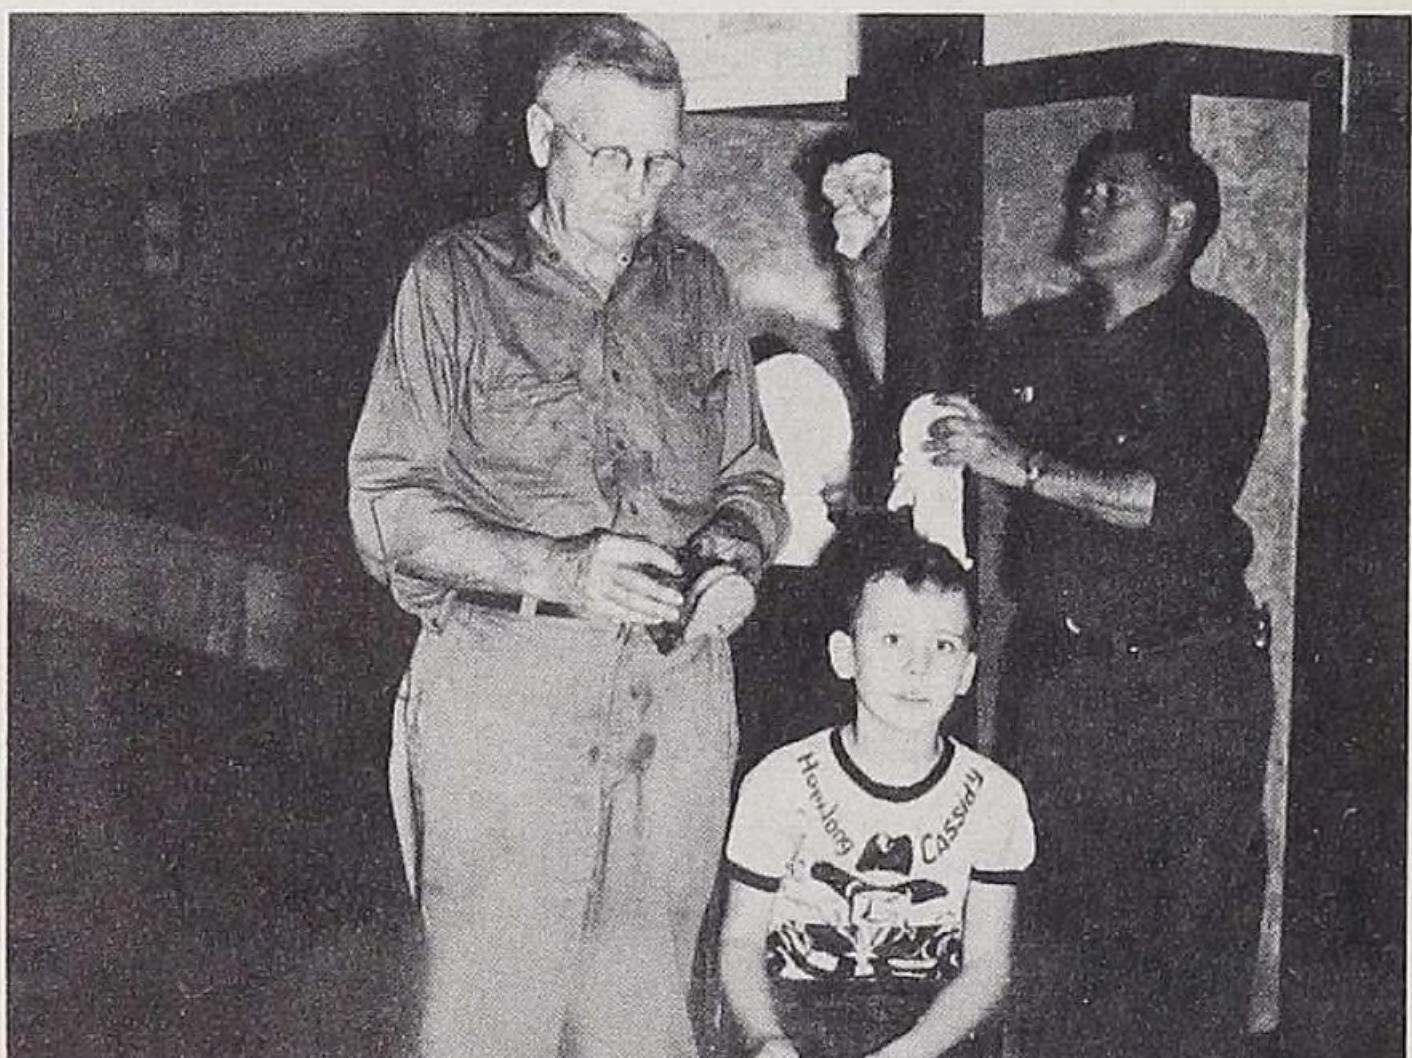

DRIVING AND DELIVERING

The wear and tear on the family car is eliminated by fifteen capable bus drivers delivering the 625 students at the school each morning at 8:20. Each afternoon the students are safely returned to their homes. The bus drivers also are available for field trips. Shown in the picture are C. Szczypiorski, S. Ness, H. Cauffman, L. Stutsman, J. Mitchell, C. Walker, P. Runnels, E. Kmitta, S. Williams, T. Bartmess, D. Brugh, A. Laureys, C. Bartmess, E. Wilkinson, and A. Tuhalski.

CUSTODIAL SERVICE

Maintenance miracles -- clean halls, swept floors, regulated heat, building ready day or night -- may be attributed to the janitors who are never so busy but that they can take time out to help others. Shown here are Mr. Louis Proud and Mr. Elmer Jefferies washing windows and repairing a child's shoe all at the same time.

HER VOCATIONAL TRAINING

STUDENTS LEARN HOW TO WORK
IN OFFICES AND ON FARMS

Future teacher Nancy Mills gets an enthusiastic response from the First Grade.

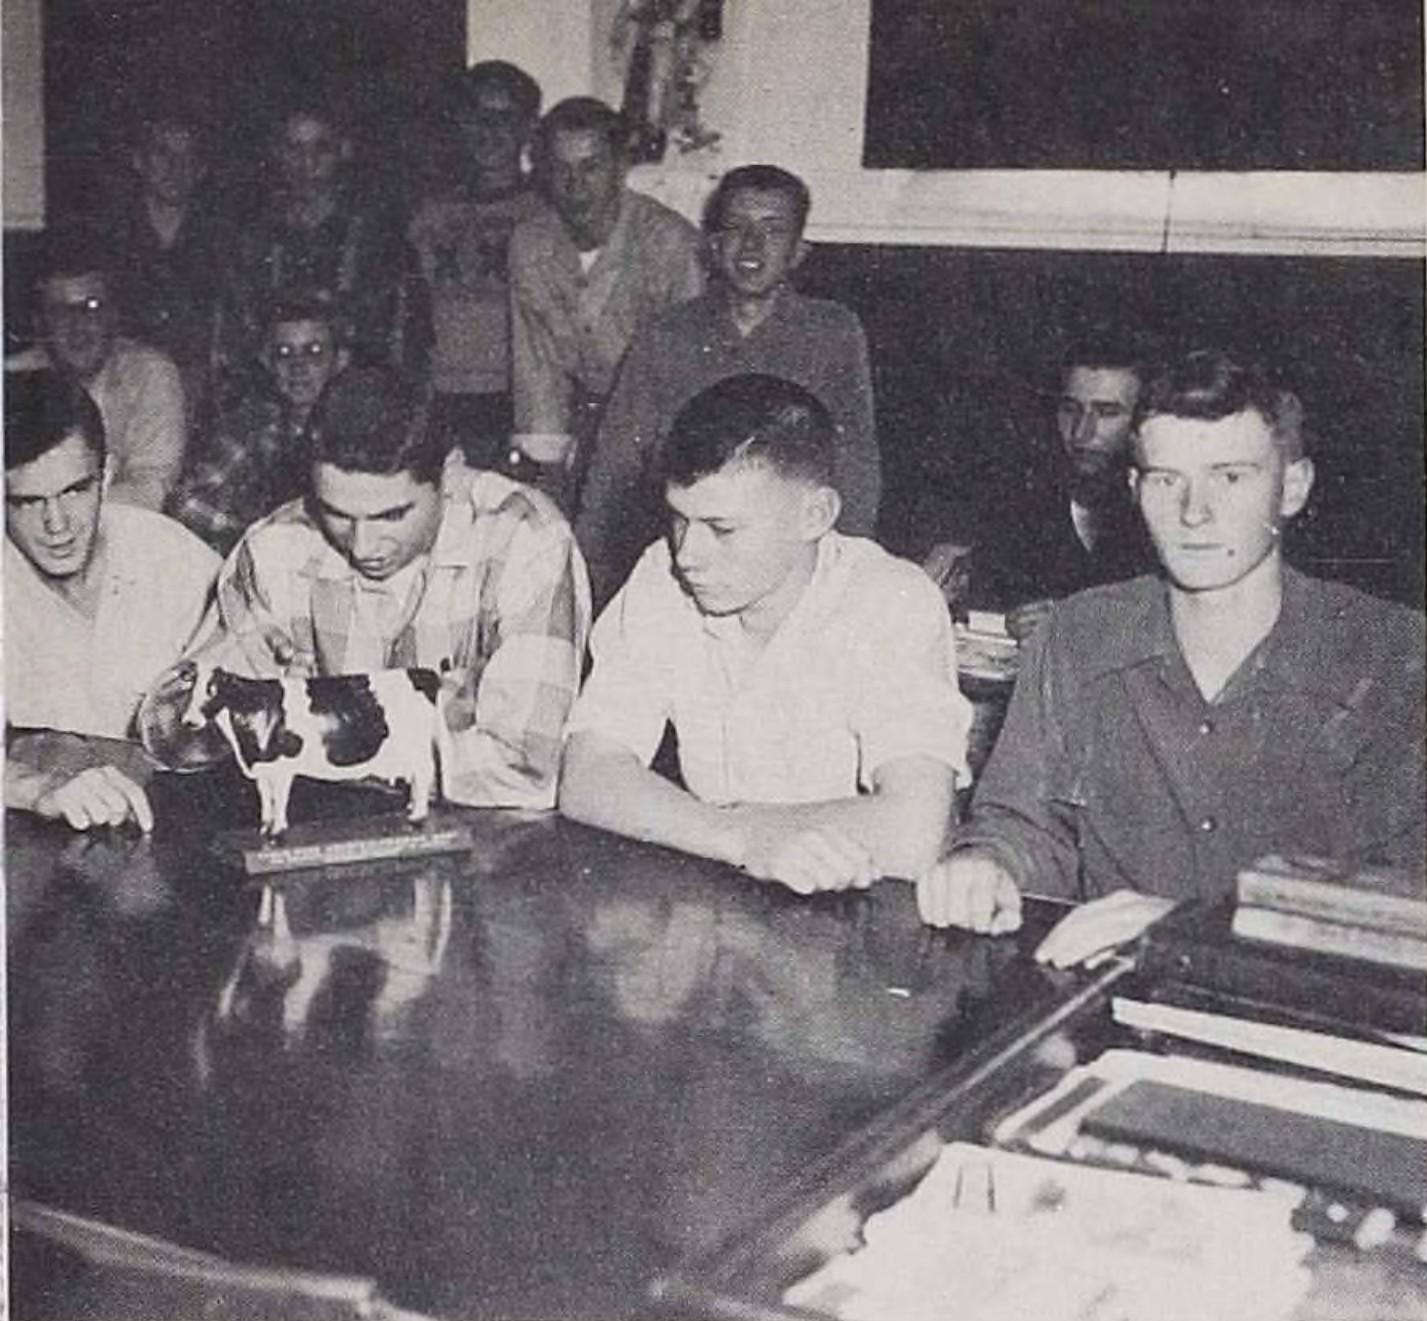

Future draftsmen work on plans for a barn. Besides these plans boys in the Shop department draw sketches for their projects, order their materials, and then start work.

Future office worker must be able to earn a living so business students may take one year of typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping.

The Agriculture department always buzzes with activity. Projects such as dairying, grain, poultry, swine, and beef are good courses for Agriculture boys.

New Carlisle is proud of its Home Economics department and of the opportunity it provides for future homemakers. Here, part of the Freshmen keep in mind the old adage: "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach."

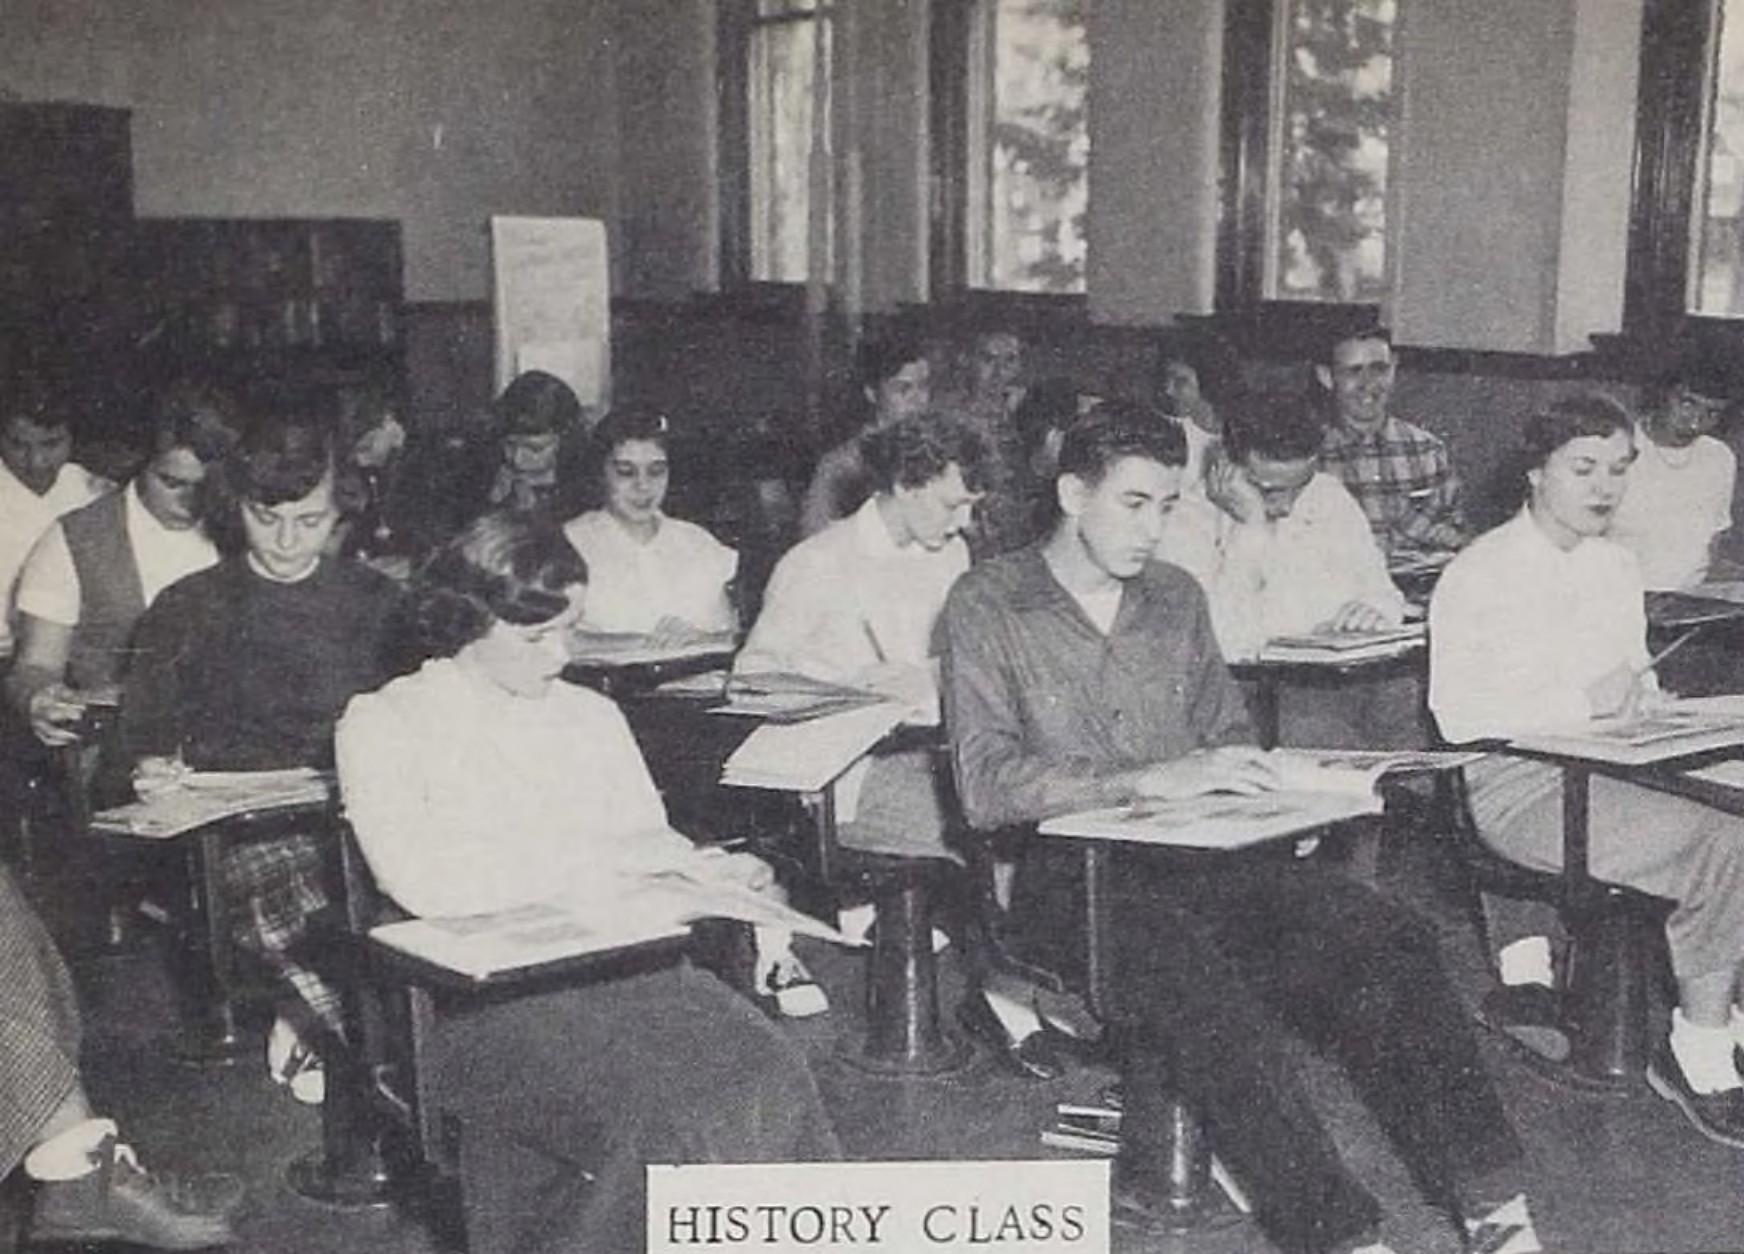

HER ACADEMIC COURSES

WITH TEST TUBES AND PASSIVE VERBS,
STUDENTS PREPARE FOR COLLEGE.

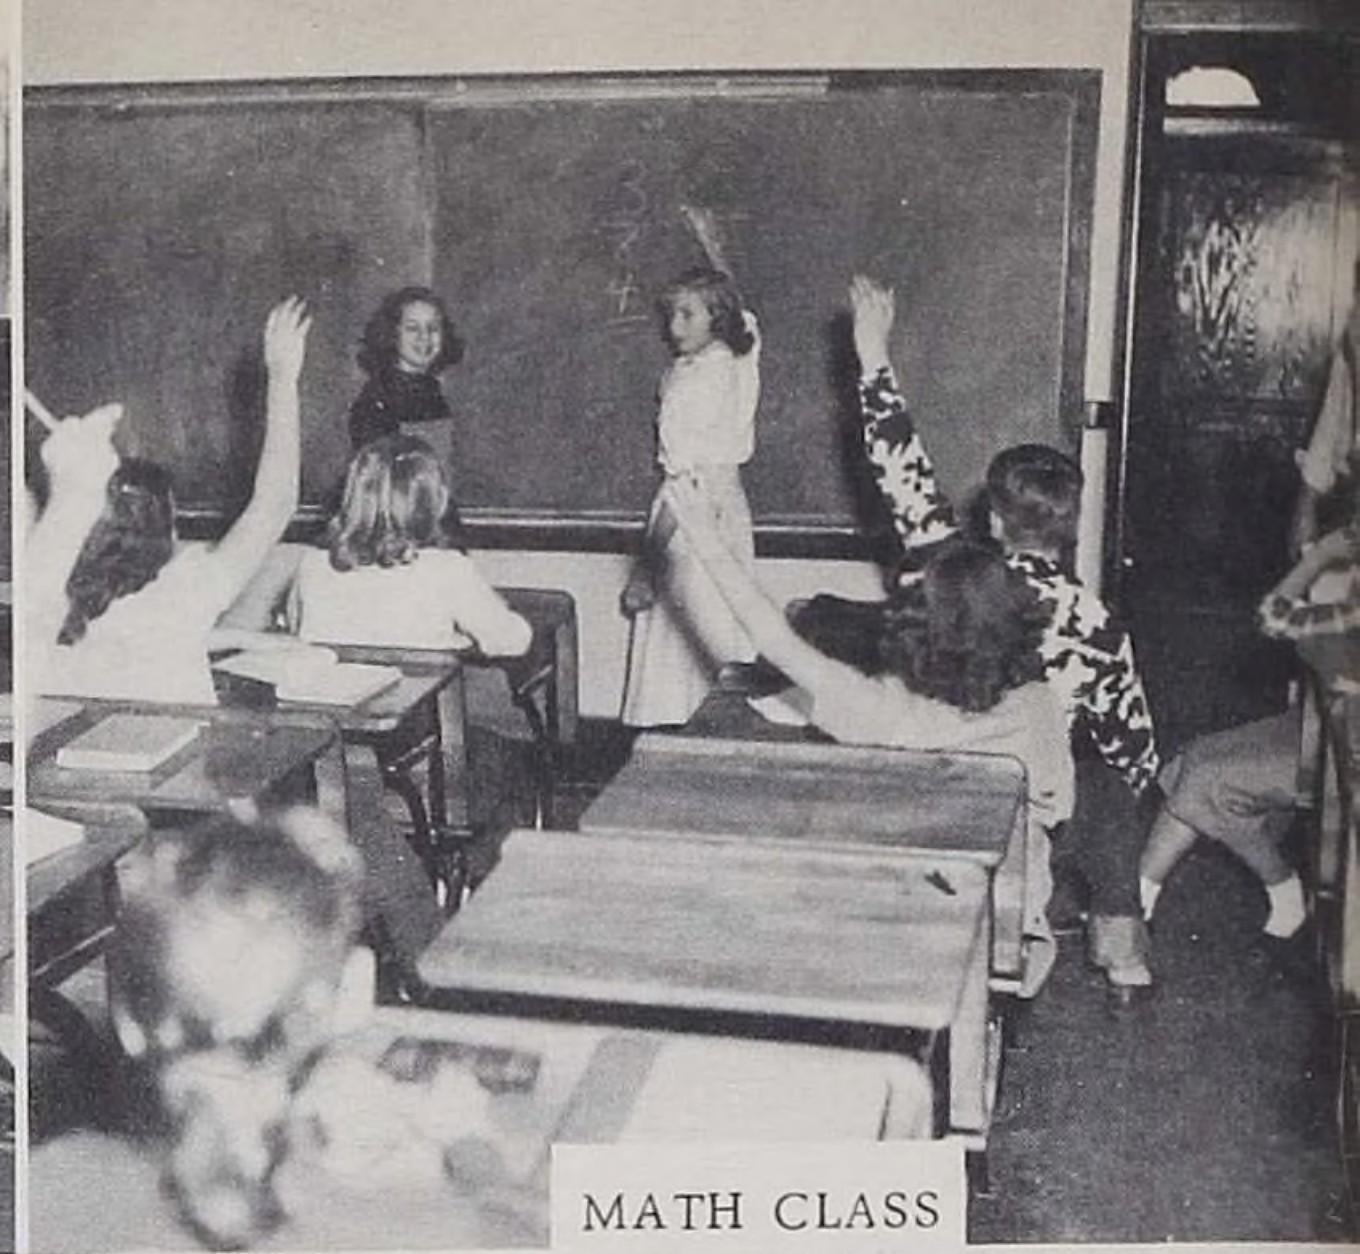

In the academic departments of the school, future doctors, lawyers, teachers, and engineers struggle with English, Latin, physics, mathematics, psychology, and history.

HER FINE ARTS

STUDENTS ARE INTERESTED IN THE ARTS AS HOBBIES.

Many students taking vocational and academic courses find time to squeeze in Music and Art to learn recreational skills. In Art classes students learn to express their ideas through color and design by various mediums such as pencil, water colors, tempera, and crafts. In chorus and band musicians blend talents and tones to present concerts to the students and the public.

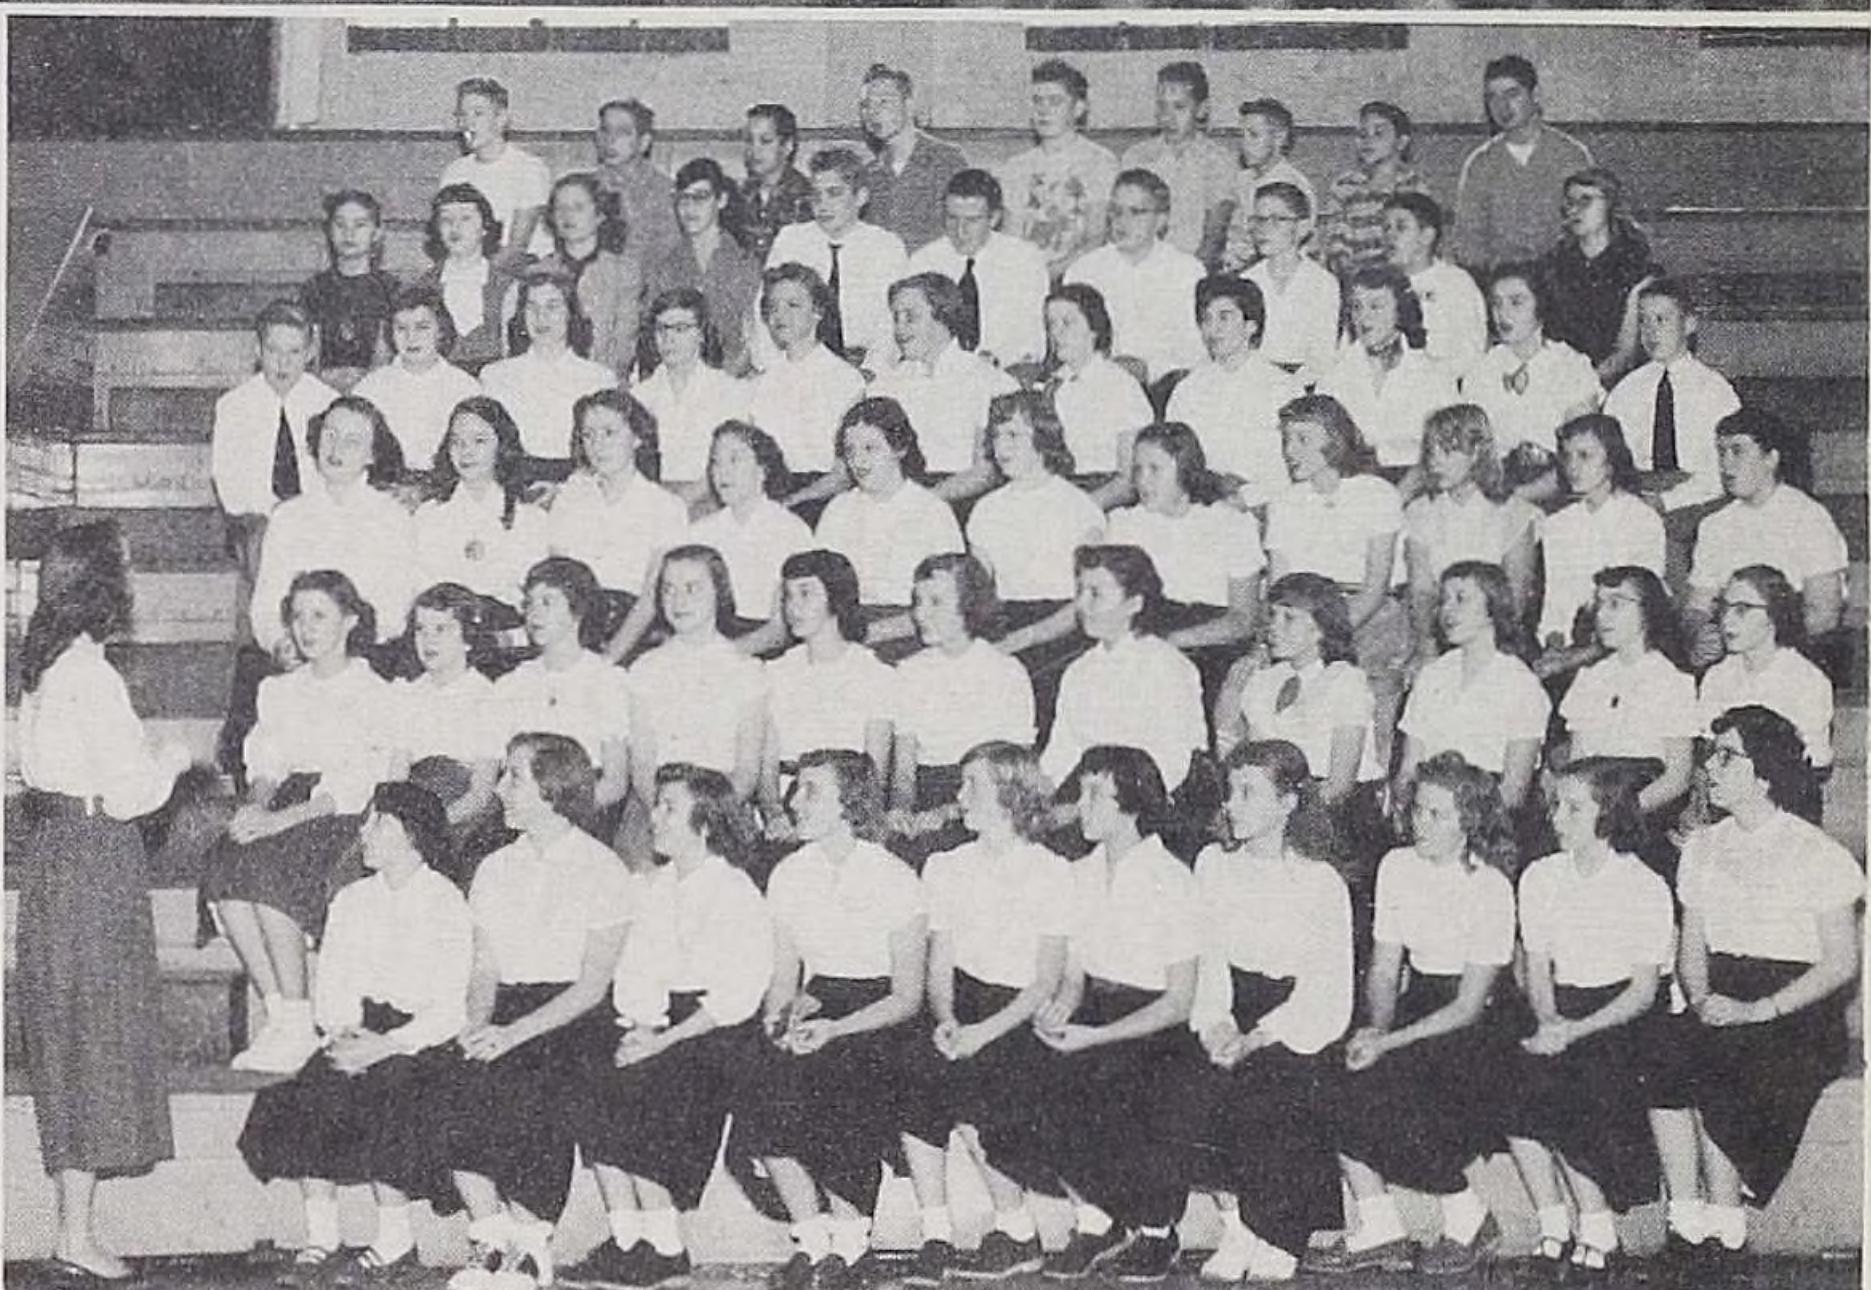

*Sponsored by Marr's I. G. A.
Grocery and Market, Hudson Lake*

The chorus was again ably directed by Miss Jo Hill. The group did the Tin Types early in the fall to raise money to buy robes.

The chorus and band presented a fine concert in December.

The chorus presented musical numbers for various school programs including the Baccalaureate service for the departing seniors.

The girls' Octette presented musical numbers at various school and community programs. Shown are: N. Asbury, D. Mc Pherson, D. Zdankus, D. Hostetler, J. De Baets, W. Bisel, D. Barker, and R. Cooreman.

Dr. Olaf Olsen, New Carlisle

The seventy-three red and grey clad band members stepped lively through an active year. The band presented some very fine shows at the home basketball games, for example "The Tribute to the Firemen" and "The White Christmas".

At the annual presentation, the winter and spring concerts, the bandmen played classical, march, and popular music.

Mr. Wilbur Eslinger wielded the baton, while Peggy Roush, served as president, Jack Shaw, vice-president, and Carole Sue Gyorgyi, secretary and treasurer.

HER ACTIVITIES

STUDENTS ARE JUST NATURAL BORN "JOINERS"

STUDENT COUNCIL

To give members of the student body practice in democratic self government, the student council was composed of a boy and a girl from each class. This year the council had a course in parliamentary procedure for the presidents and vice-presidents of grades seven to twelve.

The council was under the direction of Mr. Harry Stoneburner, sponsor; B. Ray, pres.; P. Roush, vice-pres.; D. Mc Pherson, sec.; and B. Clapp, treas.

To keep students out of the hall, the council instigated the monitor system.

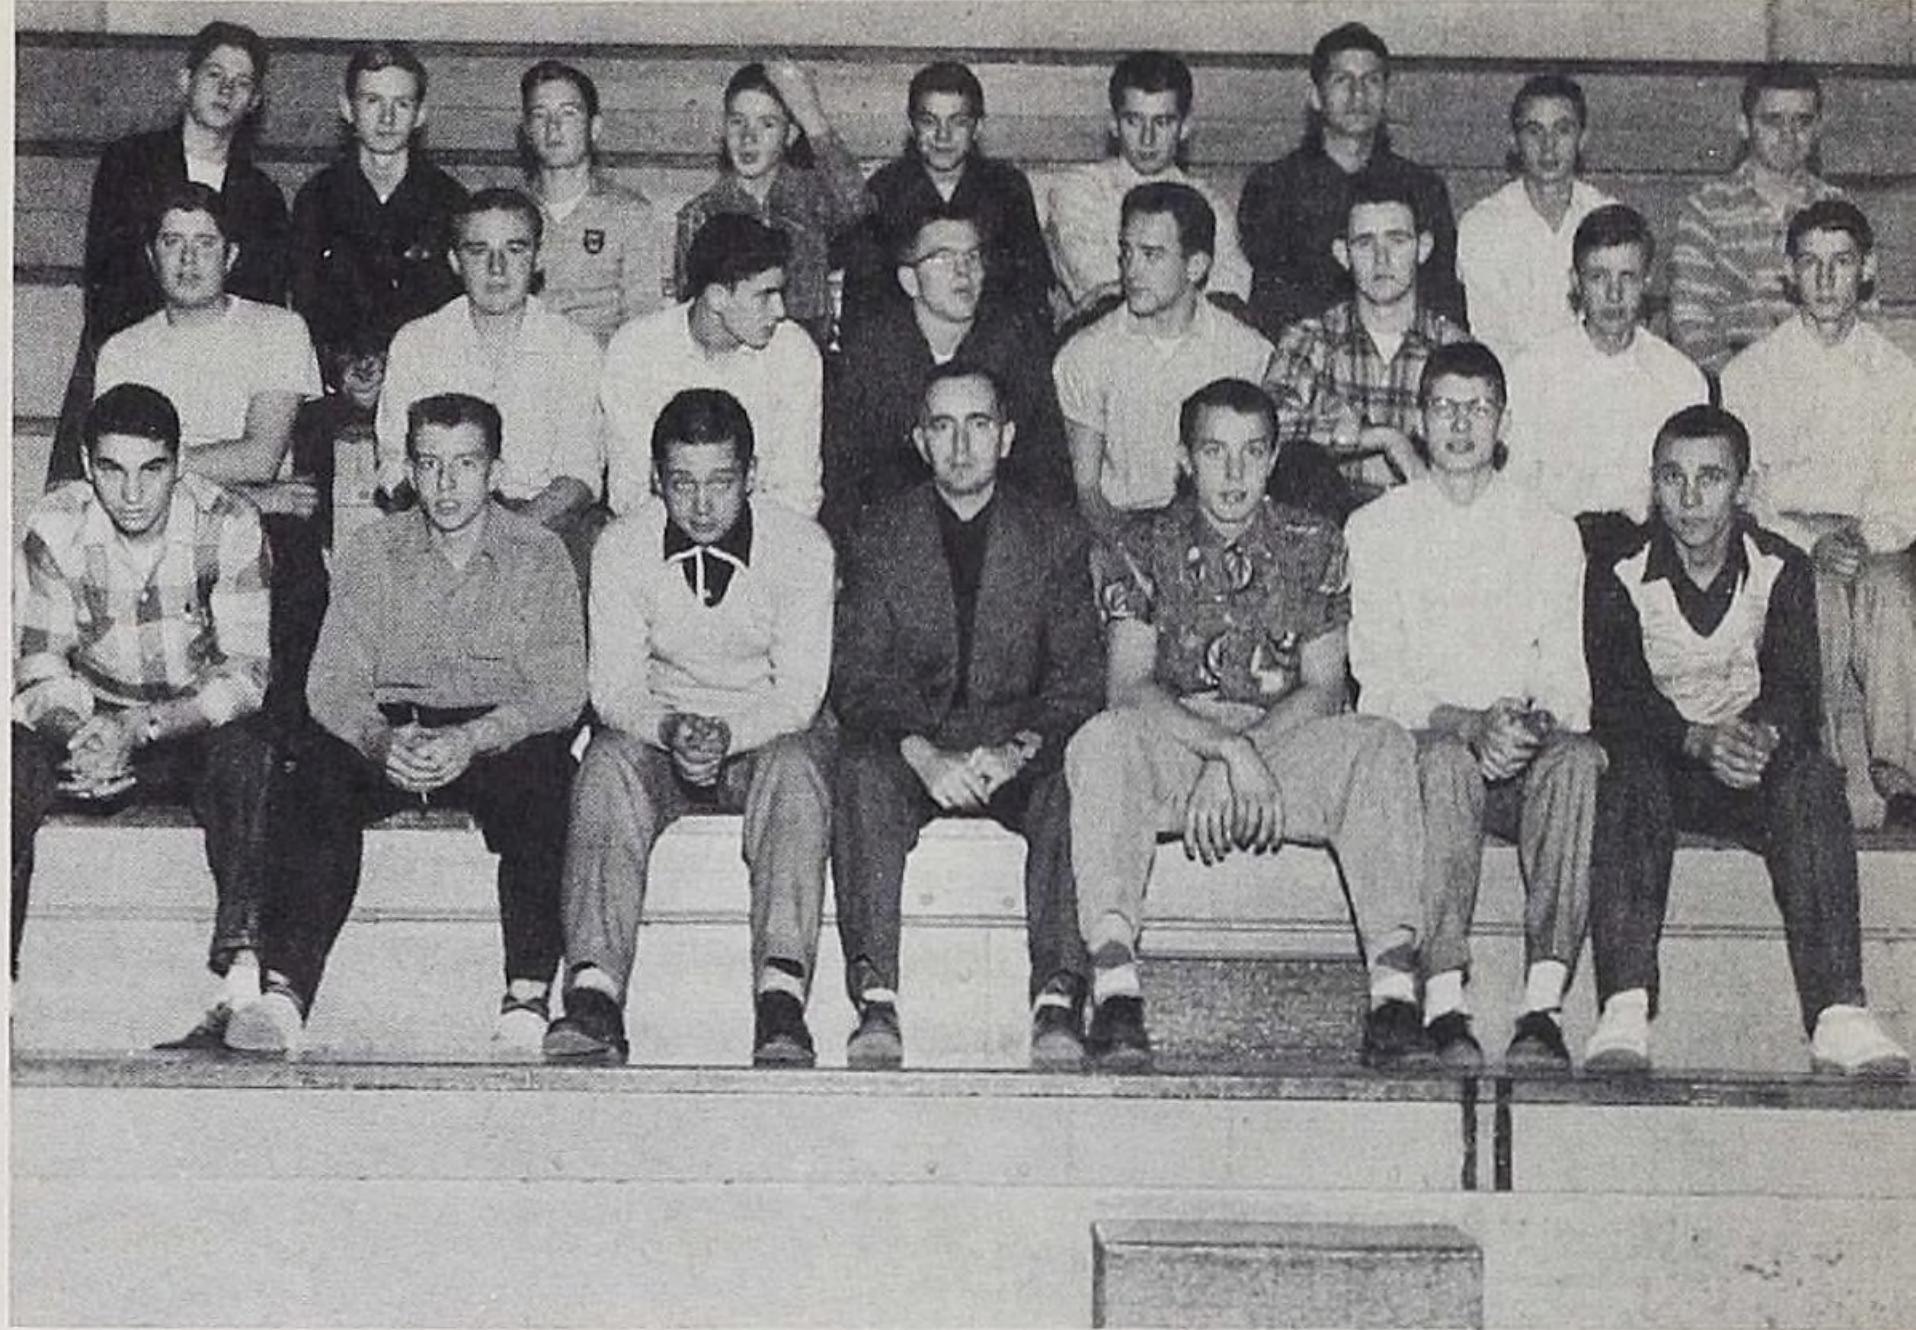

Can't you get by the monitor, Richard Horvath, without showing your pass, Tiz Deal?

HI-Y

The Hi-Y is a social and service organization. According to tradition, the boys provided several interesting assembly programs, had charge of the "Juke" box at the dances, sold pencils, and had dances after the basketball games. E. Luczkowski was president, D. Lewis served as vice president, J. Rybicki counted the money, and B. Clapp wrote up the minutes of the meetings. Mr. Howard Leiberman was the advisor.

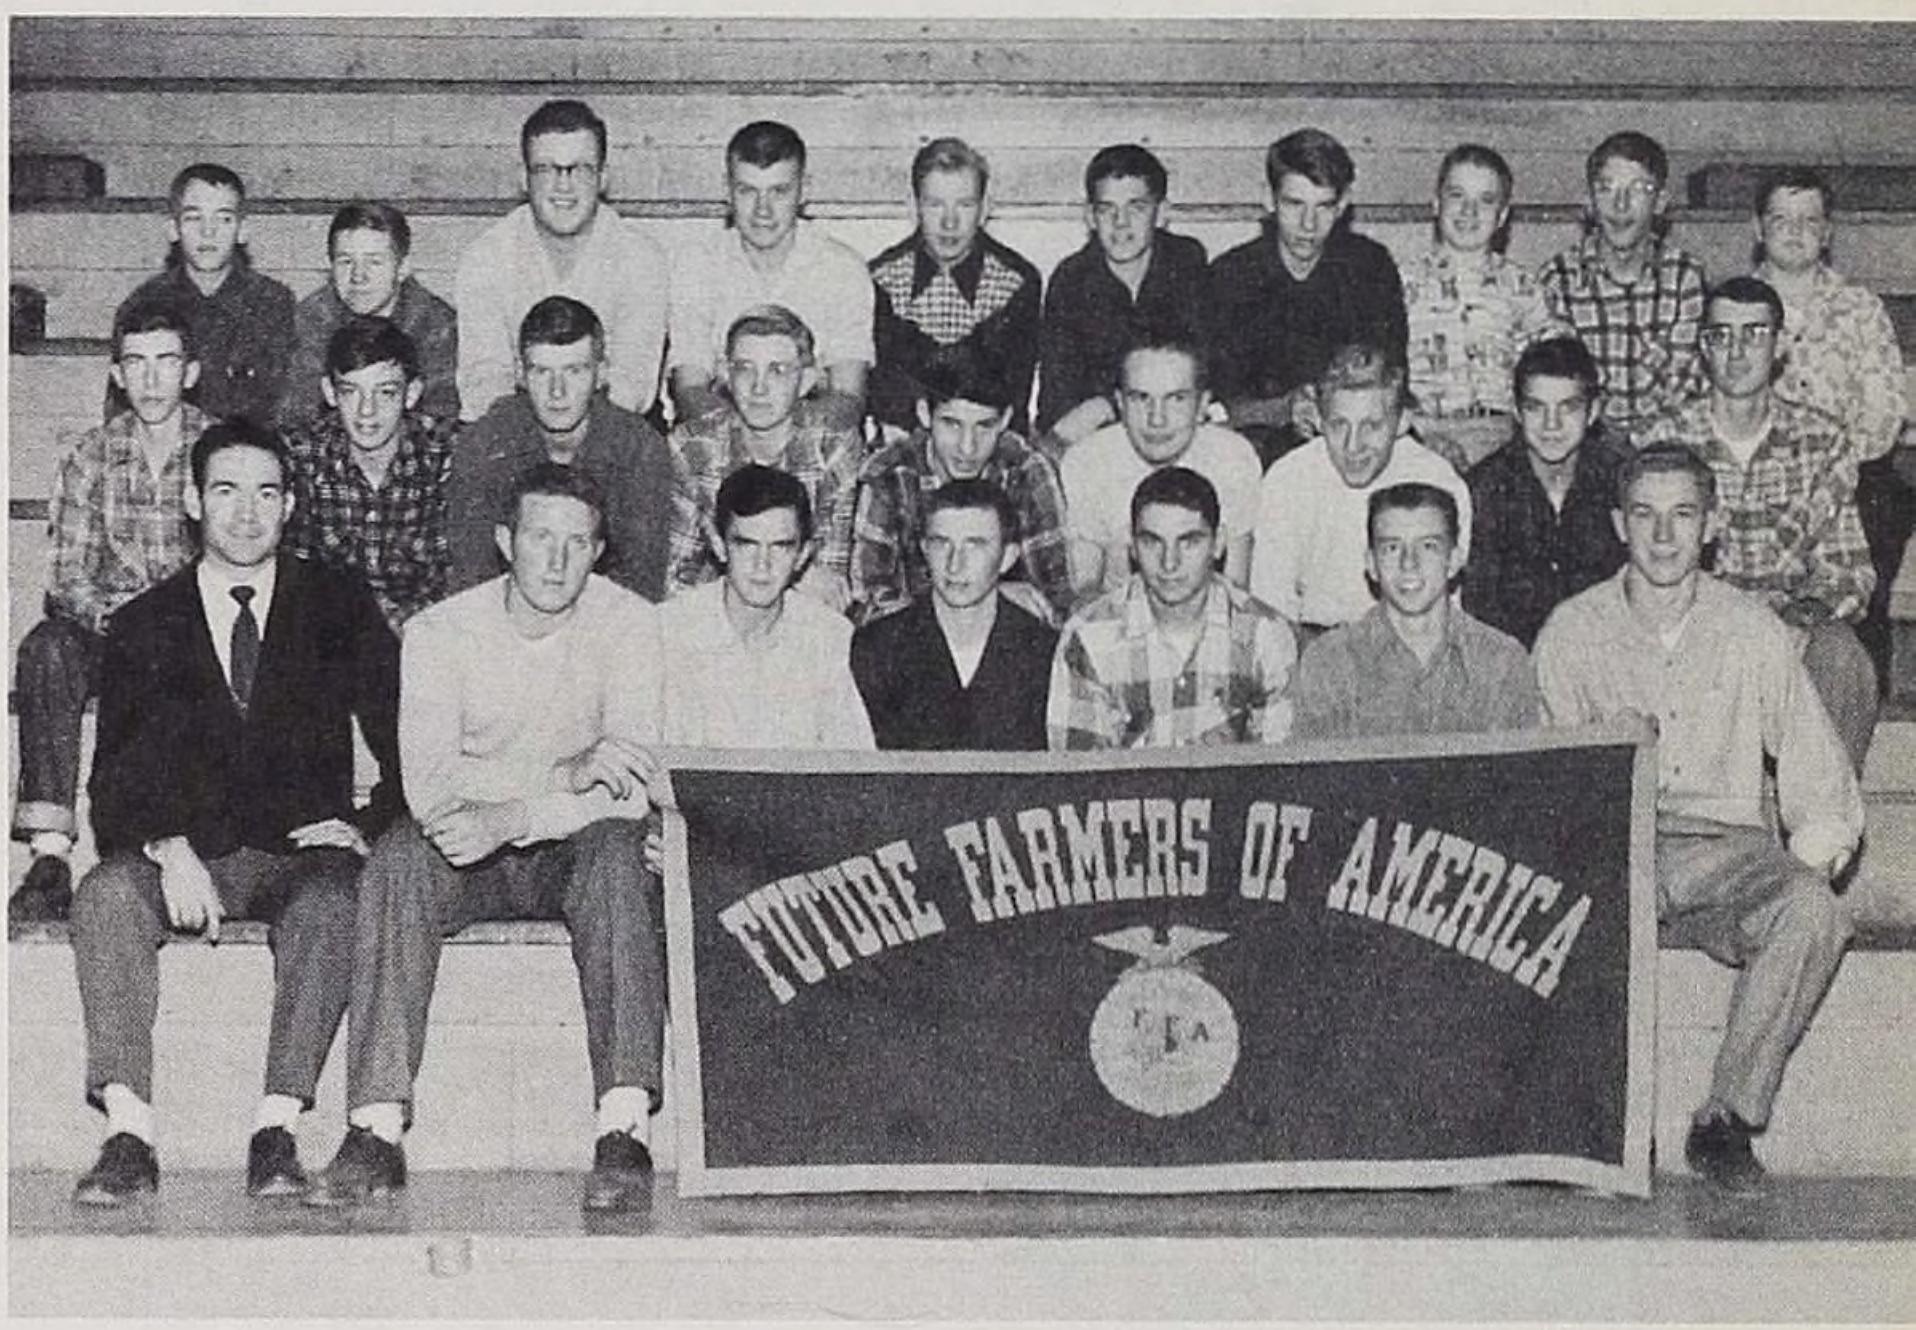

F.F.A.

The New Carlisle Chapter of Future Farmers of America is an organization of high school boys who are regularly enrolled in a program of vocational agriculture.

The boys sponsor an F.F.A. Agricultural Fair each fall which gives much good experience in cooperating with people in the school, town, and community. The organization gives more strength to the boys supervised farm practice work and has the goal of aiding boys to become full-time farmers.

R. Goraczewski, pres.; R. Kelley, vice pres.; J. Rybicki, sec.; B. Bate, treas.; R. Wordinger, reporter; and D. Zielinski, sentinel. Mr. Jack Calhoun is the adviser.

F.T.A.

This year the Future Teachers of America under the leadership of Mrs. W. Troeger and Mr. D. Pfeiffer, again sponsored the variety show. The members aided the teachers by grading papers, running errors, supervising the playground, and conducting classes.

The Offices were D. Jones, pres.; J. DeBaets, vice-pres.; D. Hostetler, treas.; C. Wilson, sec.; S. Riffel, reporter.

F.H.A.

A very active and industrious club of homemaking girls. A special project was installation of new unit kitchens in the foods laboratory. The officers were president R. Roush; vice-president L. Gubics; secretary E. Golden; treasurer M. Glon; historian V. Sarber; editor A. Ekstrom; song leader H. Headley; chapter mother Mrs. E. Sarber; co-advisers Mrs. L. Wylie, and Mrs. M. Ekstrom.

4-H

The Olive Township Boys' 4-H Club begins practical farm experience for boys and a few girls at the early age of 10 and continues through 21. The club plans a tour of the Pig and Beef Club members for the summer of 1953.

Officers were elected for the club too late to be in this year's book.

4-H

With the slogan, "To Make The Best Better", well in mind Olive Township took part at the annual St. Joseph County 4-H Fair as had been the custom of the club for the past several years. The capable adult leader was Mrs. L. Wylie and outstanding junior leaders were P. Bates, N. Hooton, N. Ray, M. Sebasty, and J. Jankowski. Outstanding girls in the dress revue at Playland Park were L. Himes, M. Sebasty and D. Bickel.

VISUAL AID

The school now owns two motion picture projectors, three film strip machines, two 2 x 2 slide projectors, a wire recorder, a tape recorder, an amplifying system with a mike and speakers, one opaque projector, and one speed phonograph.

About 12 boys from Grades 7-12 operate these items. Occasionally a boy operates the projector for a church or a club outside of school.

The school budget included about $300, for movies plus the cost of maintenance of equipment.

SERVICE IS THEIR BUSINESS

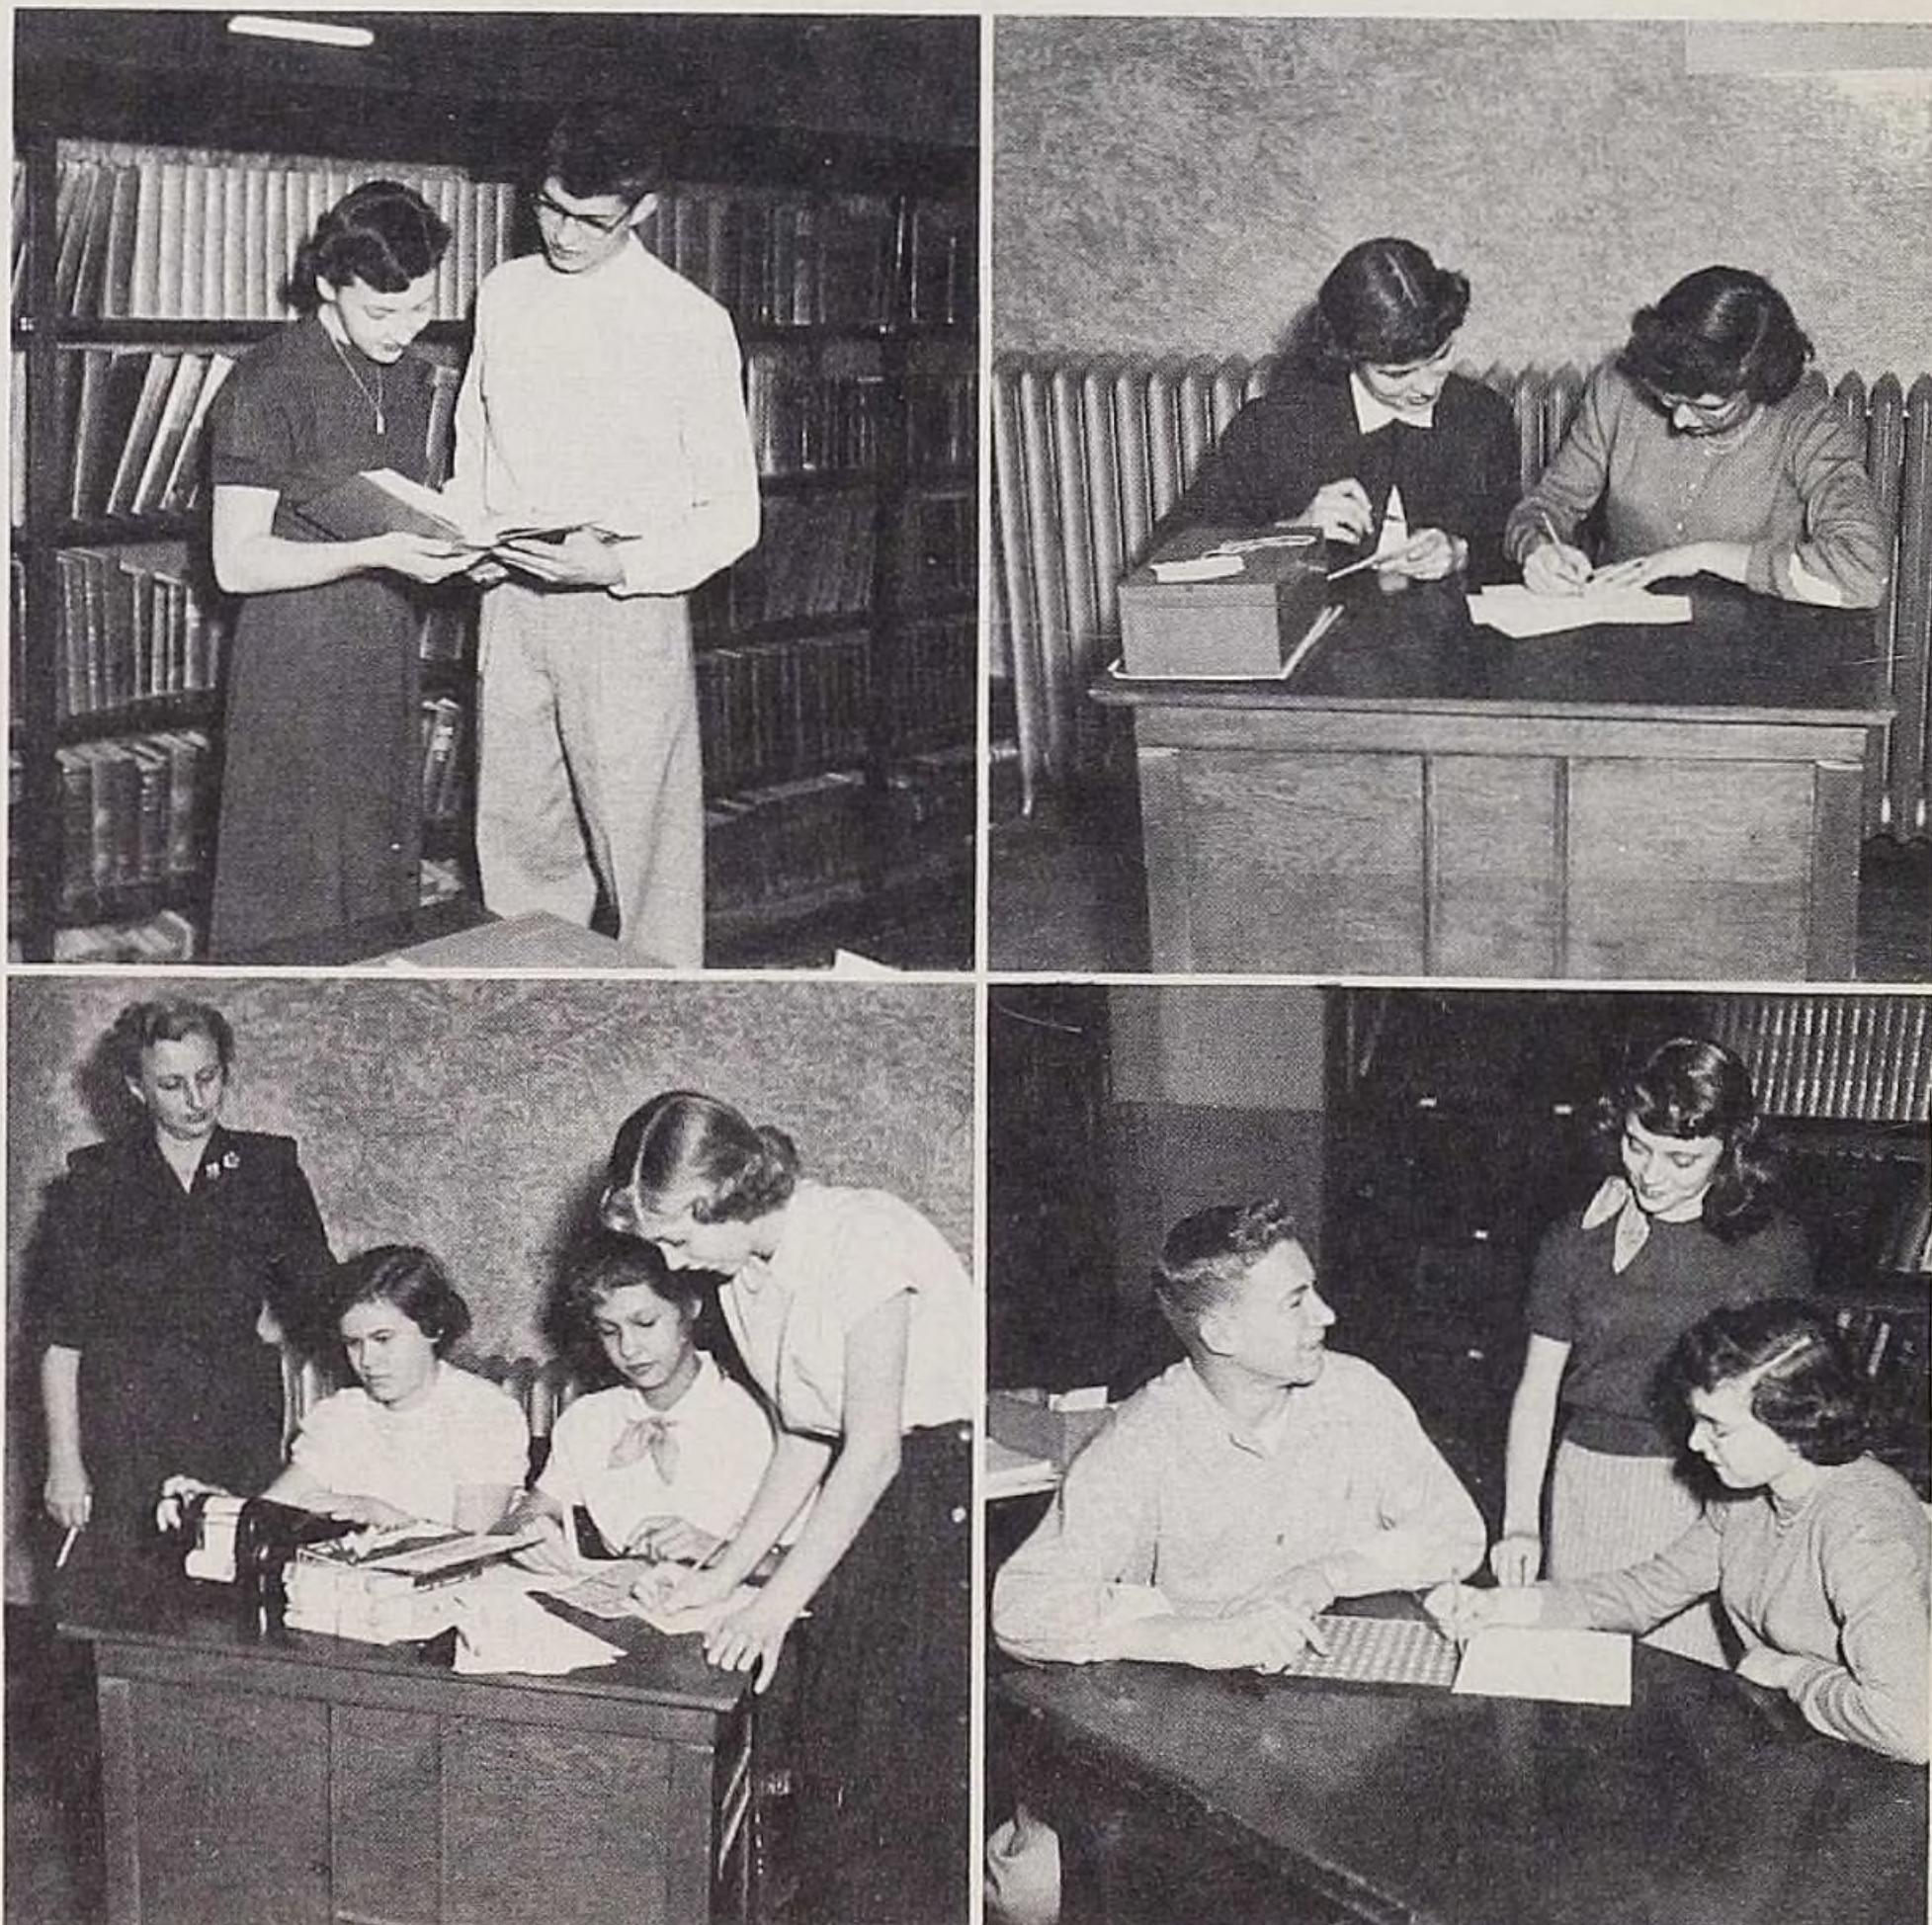

The library is a busy place for reference reading as well as pleasure reading.

Six girls help Mrs. D. Mason with her various routine duties.

The Stamp Club is composed of eight grade students selling defense stamps. Each week a buyer gets seventy dollars worth of stamps, and a team of eleven sell them. All money is checked in and stamps distributed by two girls acting as cashiers.

P. Dudeck and B. Bates are N.C.H.S. T.B. League representatives. They sponsored the annual T.B. speech contest (won by D. Hostettler), the Christmas Seal Sale (collecting $197.55), and the poster contest.

During the first semester, the Speech Class was drilled in the finer points of speech writing and oratory. Shown here are five of Mr. Ernst's "Little Ciceros".

"Neither sleet nor rain, hail nor fire..." keep our Patrol Boys from assisting students across the busy intersections near the school.

"On duty," our nurse's assistants devote their study halls each day to doing chores in the sick room. Shown here are Helen De-Meyer and Nancy Gondek.

The Parent Teacher Association was organized in the spring of 1952 with Mr. C. Downey, pres.; Mrs. B. Klopfenstein, vice-pres.; Mrs. A. Hope, sec.; and Mr. J. Bond, treas.

The P.T.A. hoped to bring into closer relation the home and school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.

NOSES FOR NEWS

The Tattler staff presented the facts of life at N.C.H.S. with bigger and better issues. The "Whoozit" and the choice bits of "gossip" from "Tattle Tale" remained sure-fire hits with the students. On the serious side, the paper contained up-to-the minute news on all important school events. With a "do or die" attitude, the staff members searched for news, wrote and rewrote copy, and rushed to meet deadlines. Mr. Francis Ernst advised the publication of the Tattler.

THE NEW CARLISLE STORY

"Aren't you going to have a yearbook?" This question was asked over and over until an ambitious group of seniors prevailed upon Mrs. Wilhelmina Troeger to help them publish "The New Carlisle Story."

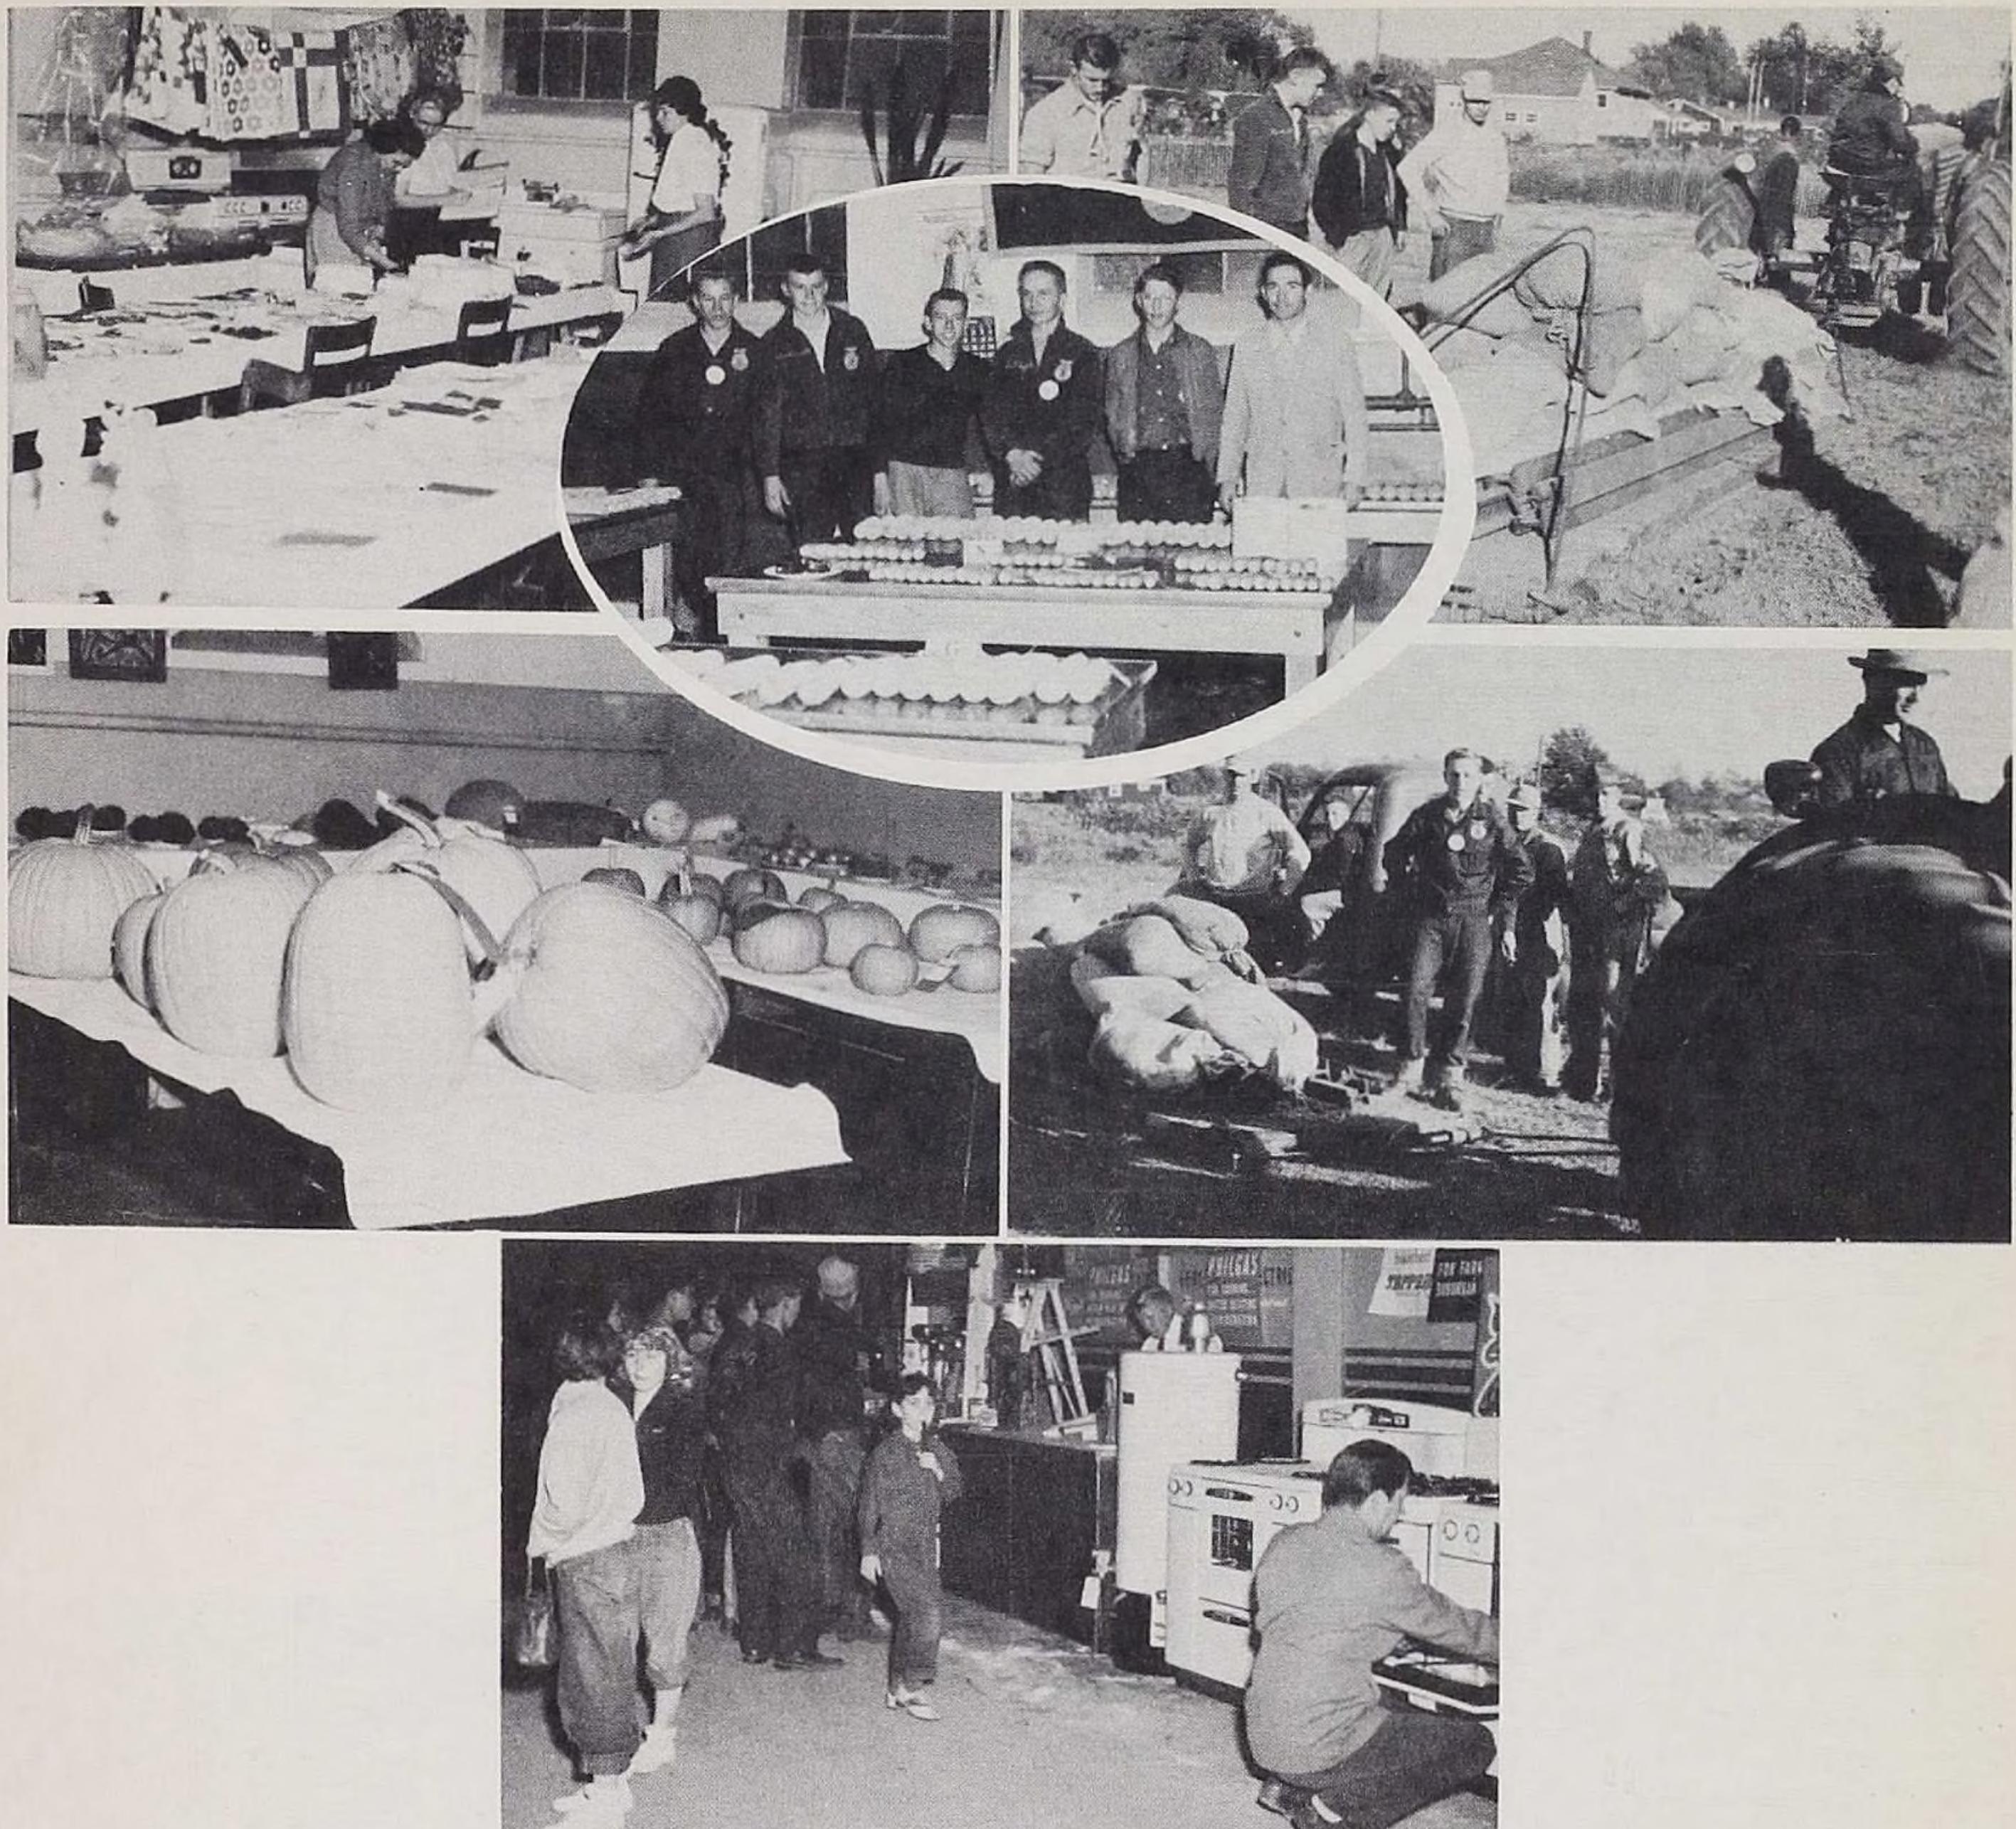

Surprise keynoted the 1953 yearbook. Choosing "The New Carlisle Story" as a theme, the staff deliberately upset the pattern set in previous books by including the town of New Carlisle.

In November, the staff made the layouts for the different sections, and began taking pictures. When the pictures were finished, the next step was to plan the layout on the envelopes used for each page, and then the literary editors began writing copy. Each piece of copy had to be checked and rechecked. In some instances it had to be rewritten, and then checked again. The first sixteen pages went to press December 10 and then there were four other deadlines to meet.

The Olive Branchers managed some fun along with their work by arranging the Autograph Dance in May, for distribution of the two hundred-seventy 1953 yearbooks.

F. F. A. FAIR

The Future Farmers of America and Community Fair is held each fall soon after school starts. The Fair is designed to furnish an opportunity for the vocational agriculture boys to gain experience in recognizing top grades of various classes of field crops and vegetables. The responsibility which must be assumed is also very important in giving a well rounded education in vocational agriculture which will eventually lead into farming as an occupation.

The exhibits of clothing, baking, and canning give added variety and interest to the Fair.

The merchants very generously give their whole hearted support in donating prizes and putting up booths which attract many people. The whole community working together is necessary to insure a larger and better Fair for this year and every year.

HALLOWEEN FESTIVAL

Amid the usual hubbub caused by a noisy combination of masked individuals, yelling, venders, and games of all kinds, the 1952 Halloween Festival, sponsored by the N.C. School, the War Mothers, and the P.T.A., got under way with a bang. The crowning of the Queen and King, the dancing on the stage, the old fashioned "melodramer" all helped to make a very enjoyable and profitable evening.

BEFORE THE

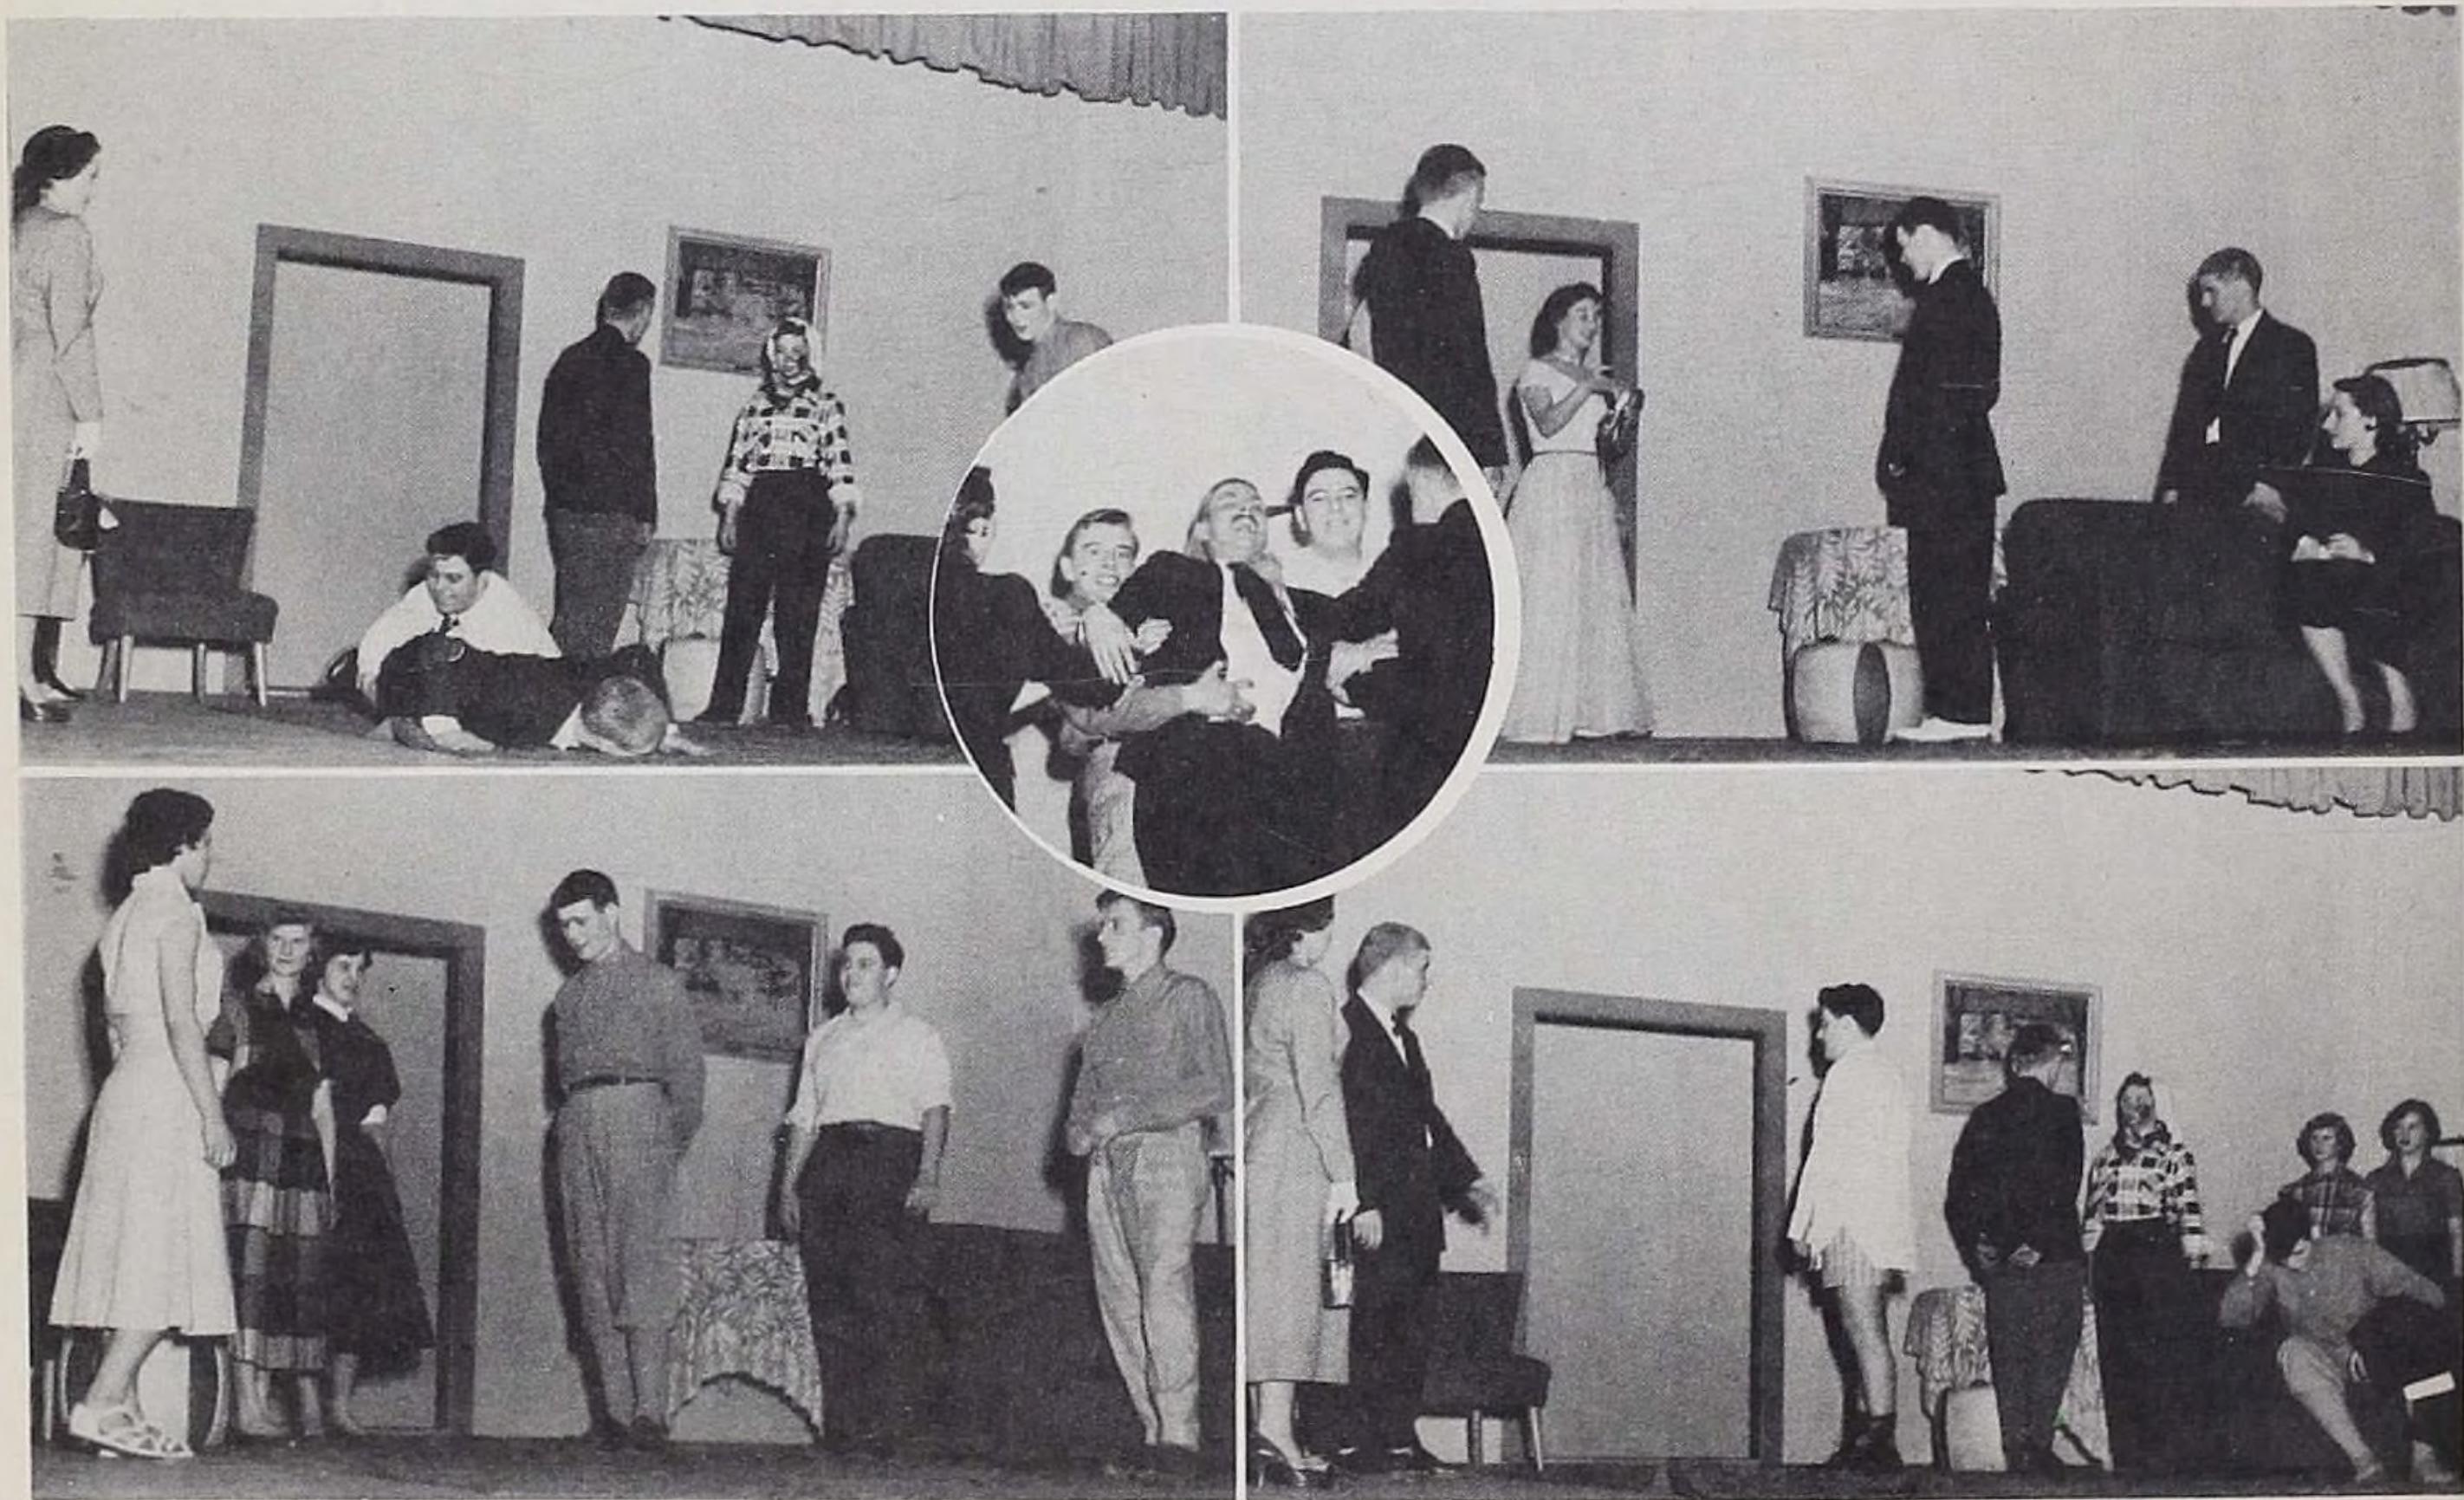

One of the fastest - moving and cleverest plays to be presented here in a long time was "We Shook the Family Tree," given March 10 and 11, 1952.

The play centered around Hildegarde Dolson who had been unsuccessful in obtaining an invitation to the Junior Prom. However, with the aid of her mother and the compulsion of her father, Freddie Shermer became her date. The two-teenagers by various wiles and the "help" of their friends finally got to the Prom. The couple were the envy not the joke at the Prom. The play was directed by Mr. Francis Ernst.

FOOTLIGHTS

For the last dramatic offering, the Senior Class of 1953 presented a smash comedy hit, "Brother Goose," by William Davidson on the evening of October 16 and 17, 1952.

Jeff Adams is an architect by day and general cleaner-upper for his orphaned brothers and sisters in the evening. Into their hectic midst comes Peggy Winkel, a delightfully vague girl, who is supposed to sell hosiery, but really brings order, comedy, and romance! Mrs. Wilhelmina Troeger directed the production and Dorothy Barker and Verna Adnson acted as prompters.

The dramatic highlight of the vocal music department was a variety program, "TIN TYPES," sponsored by the choruses and produced early in the fall for the purpose of raising money.

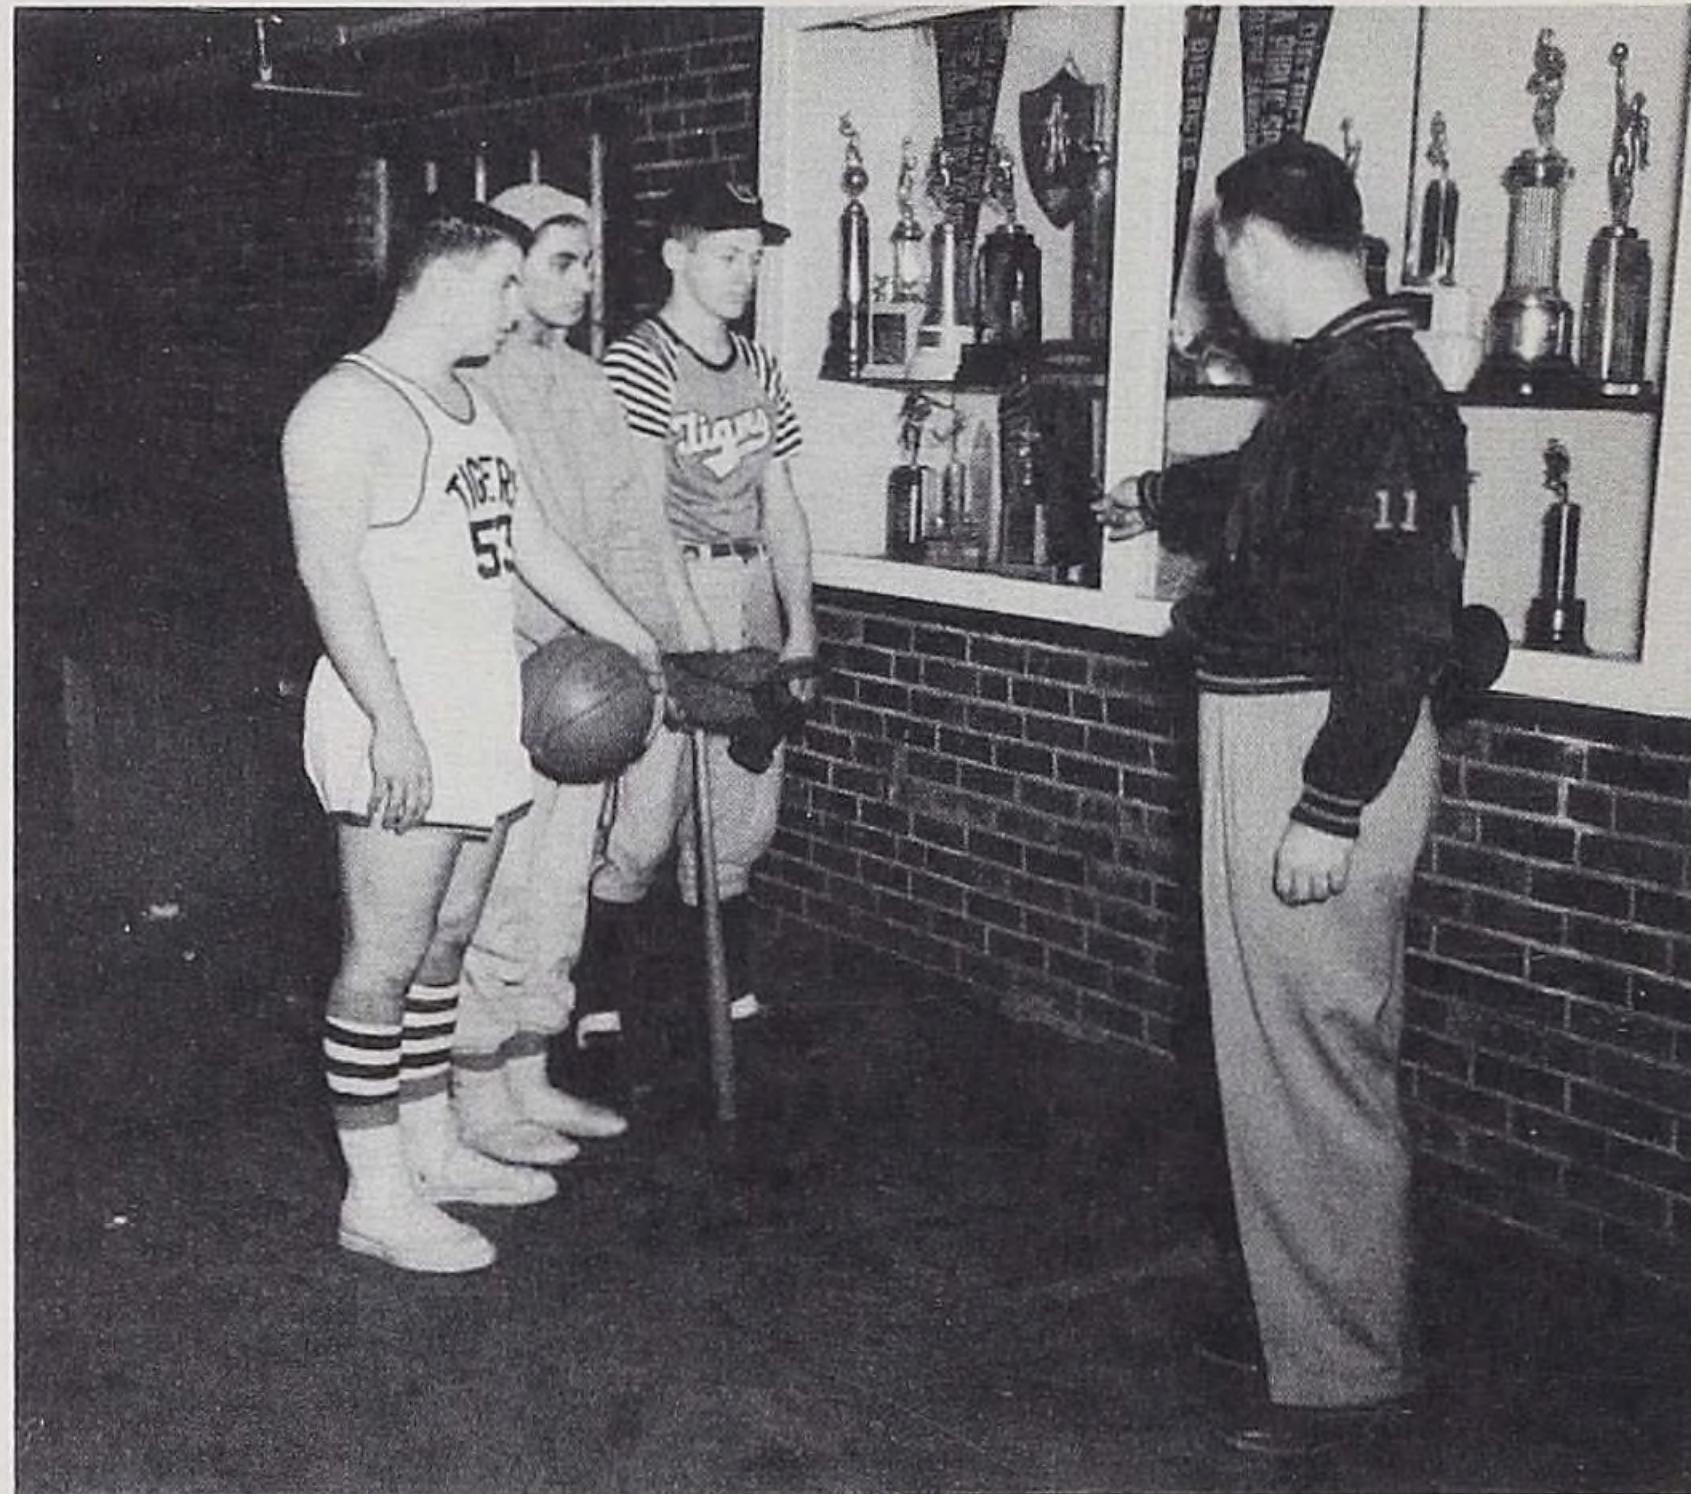

The theme centered around a young girl who entertained her beau by looking through her mother's picture album. Here the boy and girl see many realistic, old fashioned pictures come to life. Unique costumes for each song helped to make the pictures lively and enjoyable. Miss Barbara Jo Hill, vocal music director, had charge of the production.

SPORTS

The three seniors talk over their athletic career with the Coach.

TRACK - Jupiter Pluvius reigned for many weeks this spring, causing postponements of early track conditioning, and the condition the track must be in for school meets. The team, as well as Coach Stoneburner, deserve much credit for the fine work they accomplished. The outstanding cinder-men were J. Rybicki, D. Coddens, D. Zielinski, and D. Tarr.

BASEBALL - Baseball is America's greatest game, and there is proof in the spirit in which the boys of N. C. showed in trying out for a position on the team. The '52 team was composed largely of upperclassmen, but some of the boys had had one or two years of experience. Experience and cooperation are two factors which brought about the successful season.

BASKETBALL - The Tigers, under the direction of Coaches H. Stoneburner and J. Allen, had a very successful season considering the fact that only two experienced lettermen returned. They won eleven and lost nine games. Next year with the returning of seven lettermen the Tigers should go far in competitive play.

The "B" team is the foundation of the varsity squad. The boys are taught various fundamentals that are necessary to a varsity man. They also furnish competition for the varsity during a practice scrimmage. The "B" team was composed mainly of Sophomores and Freshmen; this will enable Coach Stoneburner to work with experienced and valuable men within the next two years.

Thus, the story of New Carlisle and New Carlisle School is told. Many hours have gone into the planning of this story. The 1953 OLIVE BRANCH Staff could not have completed it without the fine cooperation of Mr. Joseph Protolese of Kaylor's Studio, The American Yearbook Company, the faculty, and the student body. The Senior Class and the OLIVE BRANCH Staff wish to express their appreciation to all these people for their invaluable assistance.
